i've probably spent a considerable amount of time on most of the sussy hackforums alternatives, but jesus, hackforums really be popping, at first I thought this was some shoddy whitehat forum with nothing interesting, and for the most part I was right (?), but damn, ads are cheap af, com isn't toxic, and damn ya'll got some sexy bitches up in this hoe.

Or maybe this is my subconscious speaking because it refuses to believe I've spent money on a crap forum ? jk

Well it's definitely been around for a while.

Some of us have been here long enough to see the whole thing change a few times- Welcome in. :)

Now would have been a fantastic time to buy a Lounge sticky. I'm telling you.

Well. No doubt I've been seeing it for many years, however, I genuinely feel so much better here, the other alternatives had unprofessional staff, and just full of toxicity, HF might be the spot.

You should put your Sapphire into lottery. I did it last night and my lottery will give me 6k+ bytes at least at this moment. (Not ended yet, i'm expecting a 10k bytes).

Yes, it's a pretty positive addiction. I also get to practise my English, as it's not my first language and people in my country don't speak English with each other.

From what I've read the longer the posts the bigger chance of an egg to appear and also the bigger rarity on it as well.

I didn't realise this. I thought it was just the % chance based on a post rather than any more logic than that.

It makes sense though to incentivise longer posts.

HF basically sets standards for other forums. Saw that a lot of times that when HF implemented some kind of feature, lots of other forums copied it.

The one time I went to HF alternatives I got a virus that destroyed my PC and even one of the USB flash drives I had on it to save my most important things. But my other USB drive memory stick had everything still saved because I saved everything to two separate memory sticks so just did a factory reset and everything was OK except the first USB drive which was fried.
