Thread: Worst lounge thread in the past week.

iNviZ - October 8, 2021, 4:54 pm

A lot of members grinding for that pumpkin and some odd threads/bad are being posted. Not going to lie I'm trying to get the award but some of these threads are itchy.

Edit- it's hard to get that many post and I have been a victim in posting on some of them.

Vibe - October 8, 2021, 5:05 pm

Aye man I'm tryna not to judge, ima just get my little post off and keep it moving, I don't care if they wanna know how big my biggest poop was

Mix - October 8, 2021, 5:08 pm

Completely agree with you, it is what normally happens sadly as people grind outposts and most posters on-site become very LQ and sadly makes the sections look like they are full of spam. Granted one or two of the threads are looking fine how they are but I honestly can point out about nine different threads instantly looking at the lounge section.

Off-topic, haven't spoken to you iNviZ since I left infamous how have you been bud?

Gonna contribute wherever i can as well, although the one about anal sex is very..... strange.

Meh, it's bound to happen with the new award. Nice to see the activity though.

Agreed but for new members they are probably like "WTF" and they go back to Reddit.

I just hate the threads that obviously fit into another subforum but they always find their way into the lounge...

I'll admit, I haven't made some of the best threads or posts myself grinding for the award. However, hopefully we've brought more activity to the forum, and potentially new members with the engagement.

Sometimes you have to give, and take. It can't be all one way!

I thought I brought some great Lounge Threads back! I like entertainment in the lounge, not just boring topics. Imagine everything being the same and generic everyday, I dug for some fun old threads to bring back! Come on now!

I am glad to hear the family is well after what I hope is the end of this whole pandemic.

Cap - October 8, 2021, 6:17 pm

Yeah people are going crazy to try and grind out this award. I've seen some pretty random threads created, that's for sure.

Scoppa - October 8, 2021, 6:18 pm

Yeah there has definitely been a lot of interesting threads, some eh and some better that have generated some good discussions. I'm going for the award and about halfway there and guilty of posting in most of them. Gotta keep grinding.

A few of them were a bit edgy, I think they were locked. I agree it's hard to not be a little spammy along the ways of getting to your award goals ?

Nate - October 8, 2021, 9:32 pm

I think I made a couple threads that I normally wouldn't make :/ The award whore is too real

Blazin - October 8, 2021, 9:35 pm

Yeah, many people have been trying to get 500 posts, it's not easy. A lot of people end up replying to a lot of threads so it seems like spam. It's the lounge though and bound to happen with the new award. I'm just glad there's more activity on the forum.

Xen - October 9, 2021, 12:04 am

Yeah it's rough and I've been trying to not post non sense so it's making this award hard to get.

Net - October 9, 2021, 12:16 am

Am I the only one who liked the randomness in the Lounge? Idk, feel like there is finally something new, hopefully the trend continues till the end of October.

Bastille - October 9, 2021, 12:21 am

I'm chasing the award too, but even if the threads are not that interesting, I try to keep my posts not LQ, and I try to don't reply by short answers.

I'm also working on HQ threads for the White Hat section, could help some Good luck for the award mate ?

siddy357 - October 9, 2021, 12:40 am

The Pact - October 9, 2021, 1:11 am

I'm very wary about posting stupid threads. People could get banned if it's decided they're low quality.

Zero - October 9, 2021, 1:11 am

If it's against the rules just use the report button. If not then I don't see the issue(?)

This award actually made people more active and get to know each other. People been posting more and quoting others more.

I actually like to see this activity. Hope it stays.

Guys please don't stress yourself about others' threads.....

I second this. Have made a couple of posts for the award that don't fit my usual post quality. However I also think that it is great to see a lot more activity on HF. When viewing the who's online list, I saw numbers that are a lot higher than they were 2-3 weeks ago. That might also be, because summer is over and the forum gets a lot busier then, but I am sure that the increased activity has contributed to this as well. Lounge isn't the place to make extremely HQ posts imho, although it definitely isn't meant for spamming.

As I said, I surely made a few posts that I would not have made, if the award wasn't a thing. I prefer to give long and detailed answers to questions about cybersec, programming etc and I did not do that in the first few days in October. Not proud of it, but I had a lot of fun grinding for the award and I think that's an important factor. I still did my best to not only post in Lounge, probably made about 20-30% of my posts in other sections. From now on I will just continue to post only a few times a day, but try my best to keep most of the posts HQ.

The 'Lounge spamming' will surely get less and less, but some members will probably stay active that wouldn't have, if there wasn't the award. And I think that's the whole point of it.

That's a good introspection you give us here. I couldn't explain it better. I do really hope that new award will bring back activity for a while after October.

You have quite a high morale, for your alias - I must say.

Yeah whilst going for my octoberfest award I was blessed with some really awkward threads, but I condone them. Without them I'd be 75posts in.

The activity has been great. Although alot of the responses have been LQ, I dig it. This is the backlash one should expect from creating such a grindy award. (Octoberfest and Lounge head).
