Can you make a tutorial on how to find offsets?

A place to start would be Assault Cuber and cheat engine and work up to Cs:go after that then CoD is similar to CS;GO

You can start here to learn the basics. Then its up to you to look up guides and tutorials for more advanced cases. At that point its really up to your ability to create good google search parameters. Most modern games try to do some basic obscuring of common items you want to access as a cheat developer. Though sometimes you get lucky and they don't bother.

Adding to that, be prepared to spend hours (especially as a rookie) staring at assembly, shitty open comp. sci papers, wondering what the hell you're doing with your life. It can be frustrating when you can't find what you're looking for, but with time it gets easier. Reversing is a great way to sink time though, useful if you need to clear your mind of usual life shit. So if finding offsets isn't working as motivation, see reversing as meditation! Most people give up on reversing/game hacking because the effort > reward in most cases. If that's you, then there are plenty of forums where reversers post the offsets for you.

I'm more interested in learning vs getting a bunch of offsets from someone :)

Thanks for the additional commentary.
