Thread: ZANO! Groundbreaking Next Level Privacy Coin.

SrNova - October 11, 2021, 7:40 pm

Hey guys have recently made a investment in ZANO i plan on buying another fat stack if we see a good dip i'm hoping we do. I find it hard to explain via text, so i made a video.

Currently 30m mcap, projecting multi billion $ coin.

Have been adding privacy coins to my portfolio as i feel the need for them now is more important then ever, i see the whole privacy industry growing exponentially. Been on the prowl for a while and Zano is the best value for money i could find with the best technology. The founder helped build cryptonote protocol he is a OG.

Also equilibria is a higher risk play but i think its going to gain a lot of attention over the next 21 days with a potential cex listing soon.

EDIT:

Let me update the reasons why:

- Highly transparent with foundation fund is visible to any viewer they can look up the wallet and see the inputs and outputs of transactions
- Creator of crypto note is the founder of this project which was one of the first protocols to obscuete transactions via ring signatures.
- Crypto note made it possible for a transaction to be inclusive to a group of transactions that are not related to the transfer therefore keeping anonymity of the sender / receiver
- Monero was actually built on top of cryptonote and obviously upgraded and improved from there.
- A problem exists in monero that imposes certain restrictions in anonymity. Monero uses an anonymity set 10 by default. Monero signature works linearly.
- Zano are working on a signature in which the dependence of its size on the number of decoys would be logarithmic, allowing to increase the anonymity set by orders of magnitude and therefore raising level of privacy.
- Half a million increase supply per year zano. Capped at 100k wzano
- Also roger ver showed his face with the team recently and if you know he invested in bitcoin early 2011 and has a net worth of over 500 million but also he was an advisor for xinfm when it was 0.00004 and now its over 14c. I'm just following the money.

Hope you guys enjoyed this thread, tell me what you think! ?

This account is either apart of those paid shill services or just actually an NPC who thinks a %1 price movement is a pump.

Please stop spamming.

Its probably that olympus things alt account. It bumped all its own threads.

Why would this description of the project encourage anyone to invest in it?

I updated the thread, i'm not trying to convince people that's not my job. I'm just shedding light.

I am not an NPC, way to ruin the thread. These are just my coins that i have invested in.

Which matches the syntax from this OP:

Wow you must have no life, i make a hq thread and then you just come here to shit on it. I look at all your other posts, you must be an overweight antisocial mofo that has nothing better to do but talk shit online. ?

I'd chill on the hateful remarks. Crypto section is one we all like to see clean from this type of post.

If any project claims it's going to overtake a major coin without anything to back that up then chances are it's a shitcoin.

You got called out for shilling shitcoins after joining earlier this month and now you're raging about it. Please continue, this genuinely made me laugh.

This is so illiquid and obscure as to be worthless.
