Thread: Alerts mentions bug?

So I recently typed a username in a private group, without using the [mention] MyCode, that user did not have any access that subforum.

Anyhow only like an hour later, that user messaged me in a convo what's up? Never have I interacted with this person before, is this a bug that they get alerts, even for sections they cannot enter?

I've had a different issue. I had Zero add me to daily check-in mentions and I never get them even though I can see I'm there.

Exactly, it definitely leaves members in suspicion.

Groups do this some times to troll lol

I have that same issue, but I think mine is due to the special characters in my username.
