So gamestop and walmart have lego starwars skywalker sega set to release 12/31/2021. Is anyone else waiting for this?

I saw the lego Star Wars collections on g2a for a good price I might get them and run through them all before this next release. Not very up to date on the lego Star Wars tbh.

Yeah, I think its going to be a good release tbh.

That most likely isn't the release date. Retail stores everywhere will put 12/31/*current year, for games as placeholder until they know the actual release date. I'm so excited for this game though!

Sucks it has had to be delayed so much but as long as they release a quality, fun, minimal bug product I'll be happy. Cyberpunk 2077 is the perfect example why you should NEVER rush your games, delay when needed and don't burnout your employees.

So does anyone know what month it will actually release?
