Thread: Would you rather - Win the lottery or live in good health to be 200 years old?

??? - October 28, 2021, 9:44 pm

I can't wait to hear the responses you guys give, question is pretty simple.

I'm going to win the lottery only because I wouldn't want to be alive when all my family and friends die. If I have the money now I can do a lot for the world and invest and make so much more.

Allelujah - October 28, 2021, 9:47 pm

If you live to be 200 in good health, chances are you'll be set for money anyways. I'll take the health.

Louis Vuitton - October 28, 2021, 9:55 pm

I would absolutely live to 200, would love to see the earth be dead in first person.

Juoku - October 28, 2021, 10:00 pm

Tough choice, I think I'd rather win the lotto than live till I'm 200, even in good health.

If it was being immortal with an off switch I can control, now that would be a different story lol.

Also, is the Kirby gang a thing again?

No questions asked, I'd rather win the lottery. If I lived to 200 years old, everyone I love and care about would die and I would be stuck to live another 100+ years without them and I just feel like that would be miserable. Where if I were to win the lottery, I would be able to spend it and make all of us have a great time of what we have left.

Nate - October 28, 2021, 10:10 pm

Win the lotto living that long seems too long lol and boring

Jinu - October 28, 2021, 10:12 pm

Don't like to be in this world for 200 years. It's changing as a worst place. Maybe I'll go with the lottery. Enjoy my life for some time. That's enough.

Younger me would say win the lottery and live like a king for a few years, but if in those 200 years you marry a girl thats worth it then ill take that, most likely you will create a nice family with her and live a good life, money cant fill emptiness or buy happiness

oRequiem - October 28, 2021, 10:20 pm

Gotta go with living to 200.

Would be cool to see where the Future goes for the rest of humanity.

King 69 - October 28, 2021, 11:39 pm

Win the lottery no doubt. I'm stuck in a 3rd world country so living for another 200 years wouldn't do me good.

I would live until 200, I would want to see what we have to the future.

L1I DuRk - October 29, 2021, 12:32 am

Lol... I don't want to live for 200 years all bones would have been weak as hell and can't enjoy life. I'm good at 80 years old and win lottery to enjoy life always remember live is short.

Oh I will stay in perfect health and my body not getting wrinkled .

SIM-5101740 - October 29, 2021, 12:36 am 200 years ol and put 1 dollar a side every day :)

HOMODIN - October 29, 2021, 12:37 am

I'll take the lottery winnings thanks. Reason being that after some ~100 years you'll be all alone, you'll have to see your children die and possibly also your grand children...so what's that "good health" actually good for when you are all alone.

TB12 - October 29, 2021, 1:17 am

Win the lottery, I don't need to be around on this earth that long and with all that money I could live the life I would have always wanted

TB12GOAT - October 29, 2021, 1:19 am

Live to 200. Should be able to make a nice chunk of $ in that timeframe.

device - October 29, 2021, 2:41 am

I would choose to win the lottery. I'm not really fond of the idea of seeing all my friends and family die before me.

Cloudy - October 29, 2021, 2:46 am

Lottery and live while I can. It would be fucked to see your kids and wife die before you of old age and possibly grandchildren. Kinda wild to think about tbh

Chez_Yuki - October 29, 2021, 5:05 am

I choose the 200 years without hesitation. Even if I would be there to see the end of the earth, at least I could also see the technological advancements and where it will all lead us in the future.

I want to see a real city on Mars, to be able to live in a virtual world like in Sword Art Online, and many other things may be out of reach for us.

Scoppa - October 29, 2021, 5:21 am

Win the lottery and live a decent life.

Beherit - October 29, 2021, 5:45 am

Agreed. Lottery will give me access to the best healthcare imaginable for myself and family. It will also open opportunities in doing things I've never done before. Also, I'd rather not be a poor wrinkly old 200 year old lol.

Well that's that but in my country if you wanna be rich, you have to be born rich. Work harder = get rich, doesn't apply here tho.

bronzegods - October 29, 2021, 6:15 am

This is hella easy.

I'll hit the lotto and live fast. There is no point in living for 400 years. Death is inevitable, what matters is what you're doing now.

Nostre - October 29, 2021, 6:20 am

You would make more friends along the way if you're living until you're 200 years old. I personally wouldn't want to live that long unless I looked as if I was between the ages of 25-40. I agree with the investment part, the lottery sounds to be the right option.

I'd do the same.

Grim - October 29, 2021, 8:09 am

Depends how much the lottery was but probably that. Living a good fun 30 or 40 years with a bunch of money sounds better then 200 watching people around you did

MarvinMalware - October 29, 2021, 8:12 am

Definitely win the lottery. Life is an amazing blessing but it's not meant to be disturbed when it's my time, it's my time. I could certainly use the money, and I'd honestly hate outliving everyone in my life even potentially my own children at some point. So I'd have to pick the money.

I'd rather win the lottery.

As people mentioned already, you will watch everyone you care about die if you choose 200 years old. If you pick the lottery you won't live as long but you and your family will live a nice life.

Live till I'm 200. I can see my family live and grow old, unfortunately, they may die in my life too but at least I can be there for them.

Being able to see the world progress would be amazing and worth more than any experience money can buy.

fenompls - October 29, 2021, 11:47 am

At what point am I so mentally deteriorated that I don't even know whether I'm awake or asleep. lol 200 is a long time for a human.

Prettykitty - October 29, 2021, 12:03 pm

Odd choice brother, but valid reason as well. You can also earn a lot with two lifetimes.

Maybe even more than the lottery. The amount wasn't mentioned after all.

Yes but for up until you die. What are you going to spend the money on? Would you want to live rich with literally everything or die after 200 years and experience everything in those 200 years.

Experiencing things is fun
