Thread: [\[GUIDE \] Procrastination](#)

Irritable - November 1, 2021, 3:30 am

Hi, today we're going to talk about procrastination

Eran - November 1, 2021, 3:53 am

You had me in the first half, NGL.

Juoku - November 1, 2021, 4:30 am

LOL it took me a second, I was like "where's the guide? did he start making this thread and accidentally hit post?"

Good one OP

Yeah this is clever I'll give him that ? thought the same thing.

Irritable - November 2, 2021, 6:48 am

Aww, thanks, y'all! Your replies made me smile.

Procyon - November 2, 2021, 6:53 am

You actually made me laugh when I realized what you did. Good one OP.

That said, I'm a huge procrastinator myself.

You're welcome! :)

In all honesty: I have a very long to-do list. I have been so depressed for the better part of six months. However: I am feeling much better this past week. I am trying to move on with my life and would like to finish all of the many projects I had started many years ago.

I have over a dozen computer programming projects, four laptops and a handful of smartphones to finish setting up and donating to the local homeless persons in my city.

I am really hoping that will help them to get back on their feet and escape the difficult life of being on the street every day.

I should really write a guide on the subject and describe the potential down falls of procrast

MarvinMalware - November 2, 2021, 7:59 am

This took me longer than I'm willing to admit to catch on to.?

Ooh! You are more clever than I am and funny, too! Thank you for making me laugh. :)

(I had to read your post more than once to see it.)

There's a really nice and informative TED Talk on YouTube that explains what happens when we procrastinate.

Unfortunaley I can't link it because I have under 50 posts, but if you search on "Inside the mind of a master procrastinator | Tim Urban" you'll find it.

I totally recommend it. I don't think it will help you to NOT procrastinate, but at least it gives an understanding of what happens in your mind.

I hope you'll figure things out.

Thank you for sharing that with me; I will look it up in a minute.

I understand for the most part what causes me to procrastinate, however: There's not much I can do about that for right now.

A mobile table would be a great improvement and also not spending my free time playing a certain video game (although I really love the persons in the tiny knit community on it; they are super helpful and very sweet usually).

Reminds me of a shirt I used to have. It said:

TOP TEN THINGS I PROCRASTINATE

1.

NurSpec - November 5, 2021, 4:28 pm

Hahaha this was pretty epic, got me good.

Irritable - April 14, 2022, 3:54 pm

Hi! I'm terribly sorry for the delay. I feel as if today

Blunt - April 14, 2022, 4:24 pm

Very nice lol took me a bit

(Nov 1, 2021 03:30 AM)Irritable Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hi, today we're going to talk about procrastination. Procrastination is one of the worst killers of personal development (personal development may be a bad word, I don't know about you, but I don't think well? I can see all the coaches promising you the key to Shambala in front of my eyes?).

After all, procrastination is difficult to overcome, especially in these "comfortable" times we live. If it weren't for her, I would have been able to implement many interesting plans and projects.

DashPHP - April 15, 2022, 7:14 am

A lot of my old friends just procrastinate and do nothing... Good thing I cut em out boy.

Expherience - April 15, 2022, 8:37 am

Good one OP! Thanks for the laugh during the work day
