No, I just have floki because I think it will get listed on a bigger exchange.

Is the areas marked with green where you bought?

How do you find the newest coins that get out?

Fair enough and yes green marks for entry points.

Yea I got a nice 2x on Shiborg. Sold some and kept some just in case, cause you never know what could happen.

Good job but I am not into day-trade too much so i am chasing at least x 10 on each of them.

I'm actually quite scared of day trading! I just sold because frankly a 2x is still good enough for me. Maybe once I have a bit more money I'll feel more confident holding these types of low-cap meme coins

I could never do this, I'm more of "first research then invest" type, i only invest into coins which i understand and believe in.

But goodluck tho! I hope your portfolio starts mooning :)

If I had to choose one I would pick MicroPets out of your choices as my gamble
