Thread: Best grey users of the forum list 2.0

wtf - November 1, 2021, 4:26 pm

Explanation:

Spoiler (Click to View)

Hello, I'm usually in HF convo chat daily and i noticed alot of grey users come and go.

One of the reasons i have decided to make this thread is because this thread:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6178862>

turned from me messing around with the guy to a wholesome thread where everyone is giving him rep to stay.

So, I'm making a list with the grey users that i believe deserve some love so they stay.

I'll keep this list updated and if they upgrade their ranks they will be permanently removed since job will be completed.

List of the best grey users:

-----

=====

Networker

Recruiter: wtf

Whenever this user comes in HF convo he always puts a smile on everybody's face.

Schnitzel is as good as a grey user gets thats why i will be a bit upset whenever he does upgrade.

=====

RayH

Recruiter: wtf

Raynard is a really special user, we have been through alot and it always seems like he got his priorities straight.

You can learn alot from this good grey user he always speaks with wisdom.

=====

SIM-2756310

Recruiter: wtf

Bet sim on the forum, really great user been talking with him for a while now.

He has allready been on the forum since 2015 and debating to upgrade to L33t so this user will defenitely stay on the forum.

Don't be afraid to rep some of these users, maybe some bytes even a rank if you're real generous they deserve it.

Any user generous enough to upgrade one of the members above to L33T or Ub3r will be added to the thread.

Also the upgraded user will be moved to the success stories list.

List of success stories:
(This is a list of the users that were upgraded)

=====

Dakmor7 - upgraded by: Meeetirm
Recruiter: wtf

It seems this guy was a former L33t even Ub3r at one point but it was only temporary. He has been here since 2017 and has a outstanding record for a grey user.

=====

=====

MeW11 - upgraded by: Meeetirm
Recruiter: wtf

Dear doc, even though you use me for my precious bytes i wouldn't want any other doc on the forum.
There can only be one real doc on the forum.

=====

=====

.?.ZyL€.?. - upgraded by: Meeetirm
Recruiter: wtf

Zyle is one of the OG grey users, I didn't wanna add him to the list because hes really good as grey user.
But i think It's time he gets an upgrade in the near future.

=====

LeadPal - upgraded by: [mention=2774521]
Recruiter: wtf

Good grey user he always is nice to all the members. he has also been around since 2014 which is fantastic.
This user will come far on the forum is what im guessing.

=====

randvoo12 - upgraded by: Maadcat
Recruiter: Beherit

Recent new user that has been in contact over exchanges. A kind and professional attitude all around.
If you're in need of a resume, he's your guy. Hoping to see good things from this user in the future! -

Beherit

Simon77 - upgraded by: Joe
Recruiter: wtf

He's a new friend of mine hes pretty active on HF convo lately and i believe he has potential to become a great user. really one of the kindest users on HF

bevc - upgraded by: [mention=5037217]
Recruiter: wtf SIM-353284 Joe Mortician

Even though he ignored my message in convo I'm willing to give this user a chance since me and some of the official recruiters felt like he has been a good member on the forum.

thatBaconGuy.cpp - upgraded by: [mention=2774521]
Recruiter: wtf

Seems like beacon21 is active 24/7 now just being a good member.
Then a guy with 6 open disputes decided to neg him for no reason and neightworks decided to join this is what i call classic grey bullying.
Spoiler (Click to View)

[mention=4963606] - upgraded by: [mention=4880700]
Recruiter: [mention=4880700]

forfeit always posts decent stuff in the hacking section which shows knowledge and a want to help out where they can, and has a cute ass dog <3 - [mention=4880700]

Meeetirm - upgraded by: SIM-353284
Recruiter: wtf

Also very active in the HF convo, most users there will allready know him and he should've been ub3r a long time ago.

hackerm0m - upgraded by: hackerm0m
Recruiter: wtf

I just gave this user some rep and she seemed very thankful, grey users are always thankful and often get ignored by ranked users. hackerm0m being thankful: Spoiler (Click to View)

Under-2000 - upgraded by: Regulus

Recruiter: wtf

Very new user, seems like a nice guy often in HF chat and all hes done so far, is give to the community look at his threads.

=====

[mention=3707989] - upgraded by: Regulus

Recruiter: wtf

I'm always happy to see him join HF convo usually i give him some bytes and he flips those into profit and hes like a brother to me. (also in my favourites list)

=====

=====

fenompls - upgraded by: Joe

Recruiter: wtf

Seems like he has been really active lately, even got the october award.
A grey user that desires an award like that is pure potential in my eyes.

=====

So apparently ub3rs can only update a thread 15x so I'm starting a 2.0.

First thread: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6178876>

In?sane? - November 1, 2021, 5:09 pm

Shout out to em convo plebs.

Nachfolger - November 1, 2021, 5:18 pm

How in the world did I get skipped out of this list once again?

Nate - November 1, 2021, 6:42 pm

Pocky: he was a great member, funny, very reputable, and was here for a very long time

Sorry I thought this thread was based on closed members haha

fenompls - November 1, 2021, 7:04 pm

Joe\_Anonymous

WENT OUT OF HIS WAY TO GIFT ME A L33T ACCOUNT.

Thank you Joe_Anonymous, wtf and everyone else who creates positivity in this community by either encouraging others/gifting upgrades/ and making HF a great environment to be apart of. With or without an upgraded account I'm here to stay.

Thanks once again for the upgrade Joe\_Anonymous

Pretty cool thread idea, I like the way you think.

I myself don't engage with peasants so..

Jk, I don't have anyone that comes to mind atm, might update this later ;)

Wtf, thanks for including me into this list. I concur grey user bullying is real. I just asked in HF chat how I may fix my linux install problem. I got a number of responses and among them are from clean, Doc, SIM and few others. I worked with their suggestions in the past and for the sake of communication, I objected that their suggestions do not work for me along with the error message I received. Then the active people of chat like Doc, Narcos, and clean started shaming me and calling me a troll for saying that. I'm not trolling. I have a problem that I do not know how to solve and am sincerely seeking answers. They just told me I am not listening and never posted the error message. That's a low blow because I was listening and did post the error message. I don't think that's right. I'm not looking to cause problems but to solve my own linux install problem. In my attempt to solve my problem, I received a -14 popularity rating from the aforementioned users for no good reason.

I guess I'll shed some light on this. We weren't abusing him, I wish I would've taken some screenshots but this is basically what happened:

After genuinely trying to help thatBaconGuy.cpp he proceeded to tell me, someone who actually has years of experience doing exactly what he was trying to do, that he couldn't install Kali Linux on his laptop because "there was a kernel already on my laptop". After advising him to download a particular Kali Linux installation image, figuring out that his computer was probably amd64 arch and telling him to burn the iso to his usb drive on etcher, he then tells me "I tried all of that already, it's a problem with the kernel" (HOW is it a problem with the kernel when there's no kernel on there if you correctly did a clean install???) after trying to get through to him and still being told "no there's a kernel already on my machine that's causing an error" and providing this link to I guess "show me what a kernel is" myself and others there asked him multiple times to provide us with the exact error he was talking about, and I'm 99% sure he never did.

He later claimed that he had given us the error and to "scroll up" (I scrolled up quite a bit, and I was paying pretty close attention I'm 99% sure he didn't say anything, others that were there said the same.) after asking him to just provide it again if he really did tell us what it was earlier, he refused to, stating something along the lines of "oh I don't repeat myself". Seriously? And you're gonna try and say you aren't trolling?

Maybe you weren't gonna repeat yourself because you weren't experiencing an actual error. You were in HF Convo telling people that were honestly trying to help you that you wanted help but at the same time you didn't care to listen to anything anyone had to say if you didn't think it would help solve your problem.

Well, unsurprisingly I walk through things like this with people on a day to day basis who have no idea how or why the things that I'm telling them to do are gonna solve their problem, but they stop talking, listen to what I'm telling them, and do what I'm telling them to do anyway, and guess what? Their problems get solved.

thatBaconGuy.cpp As for your post on this thread, I wouldn't care if you were an admin, I'd treat you exactly the same as I am now because it's obvious what your deal is.

wtf don't fall for this guys BS, I'm confident he was perfectly aware of what he was doing. If you ask me, he seems to be one of those trolls that make it very difficult to figure out that they're actually trolling until you realize that they're just leading you around in circles wasting your time.

A few more things: his kernel issue made no sense, he never provided an actual detailed explanation of what was happening, and to top it all off he didn't even try to message me privately so that I could help him one on one. Instead, he stayed in convo talking about this ridiculous "it's a kernel error but there is no kernel on my hardware!" nonsense and how that was the "real problem" that he needed help fixing.

I'm 99% sure he's a troll but on the off chance he isn't this user needs to learn to either stop asking for help or just take the help given and go along with what the person helping him is telling him to do, even if he thinks he already did any of it correctly.

When he is able to explain to me what his problem really was, provide me with the exact error message and show that this is an error that others have had as well when trying to install Kali Linux, to the point that I'm fairly satisfied he wasn't just trolling and instead just being ignorant, I'll remove the -3.

After genuinely trying to help thatBaconGuy.cpp he proceeded to tell me, someone who actually has years of experience doing exactly what he was trying to do, that he couldn't install Kali Linux on his laptop because "there was a kernel already on my laptop". After advising him to download a particular Kali Linux installation image, figuring out that his computer was probably amd64 arch and telling him to burn the iso to his usb drive on etcher, he then tells me "I tried all of that already, it's a problem with the kernel" (HOW is it a problem with the kernel when there's no kernel on there if you correctly did a clean install???) after trying to get through to him and still being told "no there's a kernel already on my machine that's causing an error" and providing this link to I guess "show me what a kernel is" myself and others there asked him multiple times to provide us with the exact error he was talking about, and I'm 99% sure he never did.

He later claimed that he had given us the error and to "scroll up" (I scrolled up quite a bit, and I was paying pretty close attention I'm 99% sure he didn't say anything, others that were there said the same.) after asking him to just provide it again if he really did tell us what it was earlier, he refused to, stating something along the lines of "oh I don't repeat myself". Seriously? And you're gonna try and say you aren't trolling?

Maybe you weren't gonna repeat yourself because you weren't experiencing an actual error. You were in HF Convo telling people that were honestly trying to help you that you wanted help but at the same time you didn't care to listen to anything anyone had to say if you didn't think it would help solve your problem.

Well, unsurprisingly I walk through things like this with people on a day to day basis who have no idea how or why the things that I'm telling them to do are gonna solve their problem, but they stop talking, listen to what I'm telling them, and do what I'm telling them to do anyway, and guess what? Their problems get solved.

thatBaconGuy.cpp As for your post on this thread, I wouldn't care if you were an admin, I'd treat you exactly the same as I am now because it's obvious what your deal is.

wtf don't fall for this guys BS, I'm confident he was perfectly aware of what he was doing. If you ask me, he seems to be one of those trolls that make it very difficult to figure out that they're actually trolling until you realize that they're just leading you around in circles wasting your time.

A few more things: his kernel issue made no sense, he never provided an actual detailed explanation of what was happening, and to top it all off he didn't even try to message me privately so that I could help him one on one. Instead, he stayed in convo talking about this ridiculous "it's a kernel error but there is no kernel on my hardware!" nonsense and how that was the "real problem" that he needed help fixing.

I'm 99% sure he's a troll but on the off chance he isn't this user needs to learn to either stop asking for help or just take the help given and go along with what the person helping him is telling him to do, even if he thinks he already did any of it correctly.

When he is able to explain to me what his problem really was, provide me with the exact error message and show that this is an error that others have had as well when trying to install Kali Linux, to the point that I'm fairly satisfied he wasn't just trolling and instead just being ignorant, I'll remove the -3.

I gotta agree with Doc on this one, this is the course that was taken by beacon. if he wanted assistance with his issue, it would have been dealt with.

There are three scenarios in which I'd say thatBaconGuy.cpp deserves a second chance: If he is able to at least try to somewhat explain to me what his problem was exactly and provide me with the exact error message and show something that actually proves he was having a legitimate problem, like posts from others having the same issue, I'll remove the -3.

If he still is having the issue by the time he reads this and decides he's willing to take my help to figure out what the issue is, I'll walk him through the install and most likely figure out the problem (if there ever was one), in which case I'd also remove my -3.

And in the event that he was trolling, if he comes clean and admits to it, apologizing.

If he makes any sort of excuse to not do any explaining and just writes another "I'm being bullied" post then he certainly doesn't deserve a second chance in my opinion. I'm one of the those in the minority here that actually cares about helping people with issues and, while having someone use that aspect of my personality to troll me isn't going to make me stop caring about helping people that need it, it's still annoying and indicative of a LQ member.

Your instruction reminded me exactly what came off the kali linux website installation guide. Trust me, I've been through them numerous times to a tee of which is to no avail because of an error I told you. I even posted on the kali forums for support and don't have an answer yet. Stop pretending I never said the error message because I did. If you truly scrolled up and reread the messages, you would have seen it. You said I have no idea what a kernel is and asked me what it is. I answered your question in my own words along with a link to back up my definition so you were wrong about your assumption. I don't appreciate being called a troll because I'm not. My intentions were to solve my linux problem, not to provoke online users like trolls do - that's it. Have a good day.

If a second chance implies I did something wrong, I don't need it from these people because I haven't done anything wrong. Why should I seek it when I am just looking for solutions to my problem? I explicitly stated the error message after receiving feedback and once I responded that they don't work, I get called a troll. That's bullshit if you ask me.

I've thought about once my account gets upgraded, I could return their negs by negging them back but I am not going to stoop their level. An eye for an eye makes the whole world blind.

Here i put grey users (unupgraded users or users without a rank) that i believe deserve some rep or even an upgrade.

In the success stories part of the list are the users that used to be grey users on this list and were upgraded by one of our great members and then they get to the success stories list.

So all the yellow and blue users on the list used to be on the grey list.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)
Hello, I'm usually in HF convo chat daily and i noticed alot of grey users come and go.
One of the reasons i have decided to make this thread is because this thread:
<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6178862>
turned from me messing around with the guy to a wholesome thread where everyone is giving him rep to stay.

So, I'm making a list with the grey users that i believe deserve some love so they stay.
I'll keep this list updated and if they upgrade their ranks they will be permanently removed since job will be completed.

List of the best grey users:
-----

=====

Dakmor7
Recruiter: wtf

It seems this guy was a former L33t even Ub3r at one point but it was only temporary. He has been here since 2017 and has a outstanding record for a grey user.
=====

=====

randvoo12
Recruiter: Beherit

Recent new user that has been in contact over exchanges. A kind and professional attitude all around.

If you're in need of a resume, he's your guy. Hoping to see good things from this user in the future! - Beherit

Don't be afraid to rep some of these users, maybe some bytes even a rank if you're real generous they deserve it.
Any user generous enough to upgrade one of the members above to L33T or Ub3r will be added to the thread.
Also the upgraded user will be moved to the success stories list.

List of success stories:
(This is a list of the users that were upgraded)

-----

=====

Simon77 - upgraded by: Joe
Recruiter: wtf

He's a new friend of mine hes pretty active on HF convo lately and i believe he has potential to become a great user. really one of the kindest users on HF

=====

=====

bevc - upgraded by: [mention=5037217]
Recruiter: wtf SIM-353284 Joe Mortician

Even though he ignored my message in convo I'm willing to give this user a chance since me and some of the official recruiters felt like he has been a good member on the forum.

=====

=====

thatBaconGuy.cpp - upgraded by: [mention=2774521]
Recruiter: wtf

Seems like beacon21 is active 24/7 now just being a good member.
Then a guy with 6 open disputes decided to neg him for no reason
and neightworks decided to join this is what i call classic grey bullying.
Spoiler (Click to View)

Recruiter: [mention=4880700]

forfeit always posts decent stuff in the hacking section which shows knowledge and a want to help out where they can, and has a cute ass dog <3 - [mention=4880700]

=====

=====

Meeetirm - upgraded by: SIM-353284

Recruiter: wtf

Also very active in the HF convo, most users there will already know him and he should've been ub3r a long time ago.

hackerm0m - upgraded by: hackerm0m

Recruiter: wtf

I just gave this user some rep and she seemed very thankful, grey users are always thankful and often get ignored by ranked users. hackerm0m being thankful: Spoiler (Click to View)

Under-2000 - upgraded by: Regulus

Recruiter: wtf

Very new user, seems like a nice guy often in HF chat and all hes done so far, is give to the community look at his threads.

[mention=3707989] - upgraded by: Regulus

Recruiter: wtf

I'm always happy to see him join HF convo usually i give him some bytes and he flips those into profit and hes like a brother to me. (also in my favourites list)

fenompls - upgraded by: Joe

Recruiter: wtf

Seems like he has been really active lately, even got the october award. A grey user that desires an award like that is pure potential in my eyes.

So apparently ub3rs can only update a thread 15x so I'm starting a 2.0.

First thread: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6178876>

(Nov 18, 2021 08:15 AM)Baconator Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Your instruction reminded me exactly what came off the kali linux website installation guide. Trust me, I've been through them numerous times to a tee of which is to no avail because of an error I told you. I even posted on the kali forums for support and don't have an answer yet. Stop pretending I never said the error message because I did. If you truly scrolled up and reread the messages, you would have seen it. You said I have no idea what a kernel is and asked me what it is. I answered your question in my own words along with a link to back up my definition so you were wrong about your assumption. I don't appreciate being called a troll because I'm not. My intentions were to solve my linux problem, not to provoke online users like trolls do - that's it. Have a good day.

Why are you so unwilling to repeat what the error message actually was then? Why on earth, after I've asked you over and over again, do you still refuse to actually explain what was going on? Why would anyone that actually had an honest to god problem be so unwilling to describe to the others that were initially trying to help them what it actually was? I mean just for once tell me in detail, WHAT IN THE FUCKING HELL was the issue that made you unable to install Kali Linux properly thatBaconGuy.cpp ?

Also, I didn't ask you to explain what your problem was in your own words I asked you to give me a freaking error message or some sort of output from the computer that I could use to go off of rather than your own words, which (and you would know this if you'd ever done any work in IT) is unreliable and of insufficient detail for me to be able to even attempt solving your problem. I get that you don't know anything about computer troubleshooting, but when I go see a mechanic about a problem with my car, I'm not second-guessing him the whole time and telling him what's wrong, he's asking me questions and I'm ACTUALLY ANSWERING THEM to help him figure out what's wrong.

Now if you are of insufficient intelligence to be able to elaborate and explain in detail what you meant when you said "the problem is there's already a kernel on my computer", that's perfectly fine, but don't go acting like you gave me any detailed errors from the computer for me to actually be able to go off of.
