Thread: Forza Horizon 5

The hype is real for me. I've enjoyed every Horizon game and I can't wait. I've played all of them for hundreds of hours. I used to just drift for fun back in the older games for hours.

All of the boys are gonna get it and it's kinda our intro game to the end of the year grind. CoD Vanguard/Battlefield 2042 soon too and then Halo next month.

Any of you picking up Forza Horizon 5? Have you played Forza Horizon games before or even Motorsport?

I'm also on PC but I play controller for games like NBA 2k, Forza, and whatever else. I feel you on that once I swapped to M&K in 2013 I never looked back. Also nowadays my aim is too nasty to want to pick up some plastic sticks to aim with again lmao.

CoD I wasn't planning on getting after playing the beta but zombies was announced so fuck it. Battlefield I played every day of the beta for like 12+ hours. I'm pretty excited and I don't normally get hyped for games anymore like I used to but man I was FRYING on the beta. The movement is wild and it felt really good. Hoping they gave it that 'finished' feel by release.

Actually okay, I can give you that about the CoD: Vanguard, the Zombies actually look pretty fucking dope, I may get it for that reason only.

Update to this thread, I 100%'d the game in 4 days. Technically before it was actually released

LMAO

Forza is my fav game, I'll be purchasing FH5 this week. I'm looking to upgrade my steering wheel setup too for better gameplay :)

Try forza with the Logitech steering and gear full setup. You'll lose your mind.
