What do you think of Age of Empires IV?

I've been a little hyped for AOE4 for a long time, but due to work, I haven't had time to play it yet.

I'm thinking about buying it next week when I get some more free time.

Is AOE4 worth its price tag?

I have not played it myself, however, I did see a couple of Youtubers play it and their impression of it was pretty good! You should check it out there as well!

Looks kinda cool from what I've seen but the games seem to last forever

Not sure if I can play for that long, I'll lose my mojo

I played Age of Empires a lot as a kid, it's a great game I can only imagine what they're doing with it now.

Okay so I actually ended up buying the game and I now have 50-ish hours of playtime.

AOE4 has all the same mechanics as AOE3, so if you were a fan of AOE3 then you have no problem jumping right into AOE4.

The game is awesome for what it is - just another Age of Empire game. But they didn't add anything new other than a pretty good campaign and better graphics.

I'm giving it a solid 7/10.

I feel like I've gotten so used to Starcraft that making the switch between the two is gonna have me pressing all sorts of keys lol

Might give it a go though, I haven't played AOE since number 2 I think, still got the box somewhere in my house

Might get the game soon. I have played all the AOE games and their respective expansions when I was a kid.

Fucking love AOE games.

Haha, I know what you mean! It'll probably only take a few hours to get used to the keybindings.

i usually play with friends, game is good but civilisations and maps are very limited.

Btw if you play against bots the AI always attacks at the beginning which in online would never happen

Just got AOE4 through Xbox game pass, and it's awesome.

I'm currently playing the campaign (year 1106~) in easy mode, but I'm still having difficulties with winning battles.

I think that I'm just trying to rush too hard, I need to take my time.

AOE2 is the best, all the other versions are *****

AOE2 is pretty good. What do you like about AOE2 that aren't in the other games?

Smexy - December 16, 2021, 6:44 am

I will check AOE4 out, I've played 1&2&3 and loved them all.

It's a really fun game to play with or against friends like Battle For Middle Earth and Red Alert.

If you enjoyed the prior games, then you'll definitely enjoy AOE4 too :)

AOE does indeed gives the same good vibe as BFME and Red Alert! Good old times.

Really wish there was a few other nationalities you could play as. Love destroying my friends as the Mongolians.

More will come with time. The game hasn't been out that long and a game like that these days it's more important to ensure that balance is a thing... so I kind of get why they don't have a ton of civs to play as.

Given what I've seen surrounding AOE2 definitive edition and their support for that, expect new civs to be released for sure.

jamaluddim - September 5, 2022, 9:11 pm

a good game, but i prefer the III cause the story mode is better and have decent gameplay

SIM-3970461 - September 6, 2022, 4:15 am

AOE2 was the best for me, I tried 3 and hated it. I tried aoe4 and it was okay just not what I was expecting.

skags - September 6, 2022, 4:35 am

I use to play this game couple years back. Are there any free AOE on Google Playstore or AppStore?

Aeowulf - September 6, 2022, 4:44 am

I got it for the nostalgia. It plays like the older games, which is good. Better than the AoE 3 crap. I just can't get into it much like I used to as IT PLAYS LIKE AoE 2! ?

swoopy2110 - September 12, 2022, 12:35 pm

Used to love AOE 1 / 2 back in the 90s. Was great playing them online on MS Gamezone (?) I think it was called that.

Definitely going to look at the more up to date versions and see what they're like. Hope I'm not disappointed.
