Thread: Dogetrix Is A Scam Stop Investing And Stop Promoting It!

Thevoice87 - November 11, 2021, 11:14 pm

There is a website going around this forum which people are claiming is making them money. Myself and others can't even cash out our funds. I only invested a small amount as the reviews in the beginning on other forums and review sites were showing people got paid out. Furthermore, you cannot contact support through their ticket system because when you give the anti-spam the right answer it says the answer is wrong.

Here are some threads where users are promoting the website:

Website was created on: 2021-05-27

Trustpilot bad reviews started: 2021-11-10

One user in particular joined the forum on: 2021-09-14 and is still promoting this method which I find very odd cause NO ONE can cash out their funds and how the dates are adding up. Why would someone give away a method for free if they can't even cash out themselves?

Just a heads up to all users, cheers!

This shit looks and smells like a scam right off the bat lol.

I'll never understand how people invest into things like this.
