Thread: NFT ADVERTISER/MARKETING GURU NEEDED.

SIM-2273342 - November 12, 2021, 4:06 pm

Looking for someone, as title suggests. Not going to waste time writing a long ass thread about the project -- I will provide bullets below about what myself and my partner bring to the table:

Extensive roadmap, including innovation that hasn't been seen in the SOL space as of yet. Won't go into more detail here.

Full artwork already completed, hand done.

Full randomization and generation of artwork, via Python.

Two irl friends with extensive careers and backgrounds in finance and operational management.

We need someone with demonstrable marketing and advertising experience. If you're good at what you do, you simply need to get the traction starting -- the NFT space tends to take over once traction starts.

This this partner will be offered 1/3rd equity on the project. Solely from minting out, we will recognize around $700k in revenue simply from minting costs. We are offering a marketer a third of that.

so are you splitting the fees for marketing? or are you wanting the person to put up their own cash to pay for the marketing

I will offer payment for marketing or equity -- not both.

i'm not talking about you paying for the marketing service, im talking about the actual expenses.

you basically want an investor that will pay for the marketing then lol

Is that what the OP states? No. If someone is interested and has the experience, I am happy to discuss the logistics with them.

Clearly, you are not. Now fuck off, shitposting moron.

How much of your target addressable market have you talked to and how much demand have you generated? Do you have the accounting of this done?

MnMs - November 14, 2021, 10:35 am not sure why you got offended, was literally asking you to clarify. someones in a bad mood i guess?

keep doing other peoples homework bro! dont think the NFT will pop off with a founder that acts like a child edit: also not sure how "Full artwork already completed, hand done." when just one line below you state its randomly generated (which always happens AFTER mint)... interesting

I can offer SEO services when it comes to marketing. Let me know if that helps.

1. I make more money than you, trust me. Don't do homework lol.

2. You are clearly brain dead.

3. Full artwork is done, as in the traits are completed. Those traits have been run through Python and randomized to create a collection. So, again, you're showing your stupidity on the topic. Eat a dick, moron.
