I paid Mail Merge as requested the funds. He immediately said we would start the next day as he is free then. However, he went inactive for a few days. Then later decided to tell me his wife fell ILL and then ignored more of my future messages. I told him he either needed to refund me or provide what I paid for, but he didn't.

I wouldn't trust him with any service going forward as I am out my money and time.

Was this ever resolved Boney

It appears Boney hasn't been on in quite some time. Hopefully he is well and can update us immediately as it appears Mail Merge is active in the marketplace again.

Also, look at the stickies in Marketplace Discussions. You'll have some guidance on how to use a contract and a middleman to help prevent things like this in the future.

Problem have been solved. He send me a email database after couple of days. Seems hes good guy. He said "I am extremely sorry for delay from vendor, he was busy with his personal issues. so here your data".

No update at this time, nor any messages were ever sent back to me. He can feel free to refund via the original crypto address used in the contract or otherwise anyone checking in can feel free to presume it was a scam.
