Thread: Got punched in the face last night...

AcademyAwardz - November 20, 2021, 2:46 pm

So, last night I was walking in front of my campus union with my earbuds in and just chilling. It was about 8 pm and suddenly I just get whacked in the face by a homeless man for no reason.

My earbuds flew off and the guy was yelling at me, saying mindless stuff that didn't make sense then he runs away.

So, umm, what?

Also, back from the dead and on HF again after quite some time, love this forum and miss all the good convos so good to be able to post back. Curious to see who is still here!

Damn, also for no reason? People out there doing stupid shit.

Eran - November 22, 2021, 7:05 am

He was probably meth'd out of his mind. Better to just walk away as people like him tend to feel no pain so the fucker will just keep getting up and assaulting you.

Unless you're a body builder lol, then just know him out. If the police gets involved just say it was self-defence.

Do you plan on avoiding that street from now on or?

K1. - November 22, 2021, 7:10 am

That's a wild one dude, could you not make out anything from his ramblings?

Did he look doped up or what?

I honestly would've hit hit back, i had a local crackhead walk up on me before with my friends and start bugging the fuck out, we didn't wanna hurt him even though he was invading our personal space and kinda making our girls uncomfortable but as soon as he started coming up to my gf and looking like he was tryna grab her i had no choice but to slam his ass and that kinda woke him back up and he literally just walked away. Shit was fuckin weird but im used to the crackheads crackheadin' about and shit. Lol you should google "Kensington, Philadelphia" and you'll see that it's LITERALLY full of zombie crackheads. Literally lol

FinanceMan901 - November 22, 2021, 8:17 am

Recently I had a similar situation, a homeless alcoholic attacked my father for no reason when we were leaving the supermarket. Nasty business. What to do, in life we meet different people with different problems and motivations. It's not cool, but unfortunately in most cases we have no influence on it.

Yep that sounds about right haha bro there's literally people shooting up in the middle of the streets, on sidewalks, just crazy down there bro it's so sad tbh like the cops don't even do shit because they can't like what's arresting them just for them to be released right after going to do for anybody? They couldn't even keep up nor have enough officers arresting them anyways. It's literally referred to an open air drug market and the biggest/worst in the USA, shit prolly even in the top 5 in the world too... it's so sad smh

Gaetano Fidanzati - November 23, 2021, 2:36 pm

Beat the shit out of him , police complaint wouldnt work as you got no cctv cam.
