User has not fulfilled the entirety of the agreed contract.

How it started-

So initially I posted a thread located here and he had contacted me from this thread stating that he could indeed do this for me.

We agreed on terms I let him know I wasn't in a rush or anything for it, expecting the max time for a graphics design to be about 4-5days max for both.

3 days go by, haven't heard anything which I didn't at first find strange cause I did indeed tell him I wasn't in a rush. So I proceeded to msg him and he took about 24 hours to reply he ill get some previews sent over soon. At this point I felt good cause in my mind I thought he was working on them, I was absolutely wrong.

3 more days pass no response so I messaged him again hey this is getting kinda long now, can I at least see something. He waits 12 hours to say, yes ill get them to you soon. Then his HF profile switched to my sales thread as if he was just getting started on this.

Frustrated I messaged him and let him know I don't want some copy pasted shit design and he said ok.

The next day, 7 days in I finally receive my first thread design. And it was indeed a copy pasted design from others he did. Even worse, he mispeled my fucking username at the top!

Here we are 10 days into the contract and all I've received is a shitty thread design.

I posted on his thread a few days ago and he said sorry for the delay ill get these over to you soon

At that point he messaged me on discord and has ghosted since on both discord and HF.

Honestly should have went off his B rating rather then rep. Very disappointed he did this.

I just want my second thread design he promised, Not really interested in a refund for I know that won't be the end result any way.

Thanks for reading.

Any chance we can see the thread design? Really wonder how it looks like.

I had no choice but to use it as my Sales thread for my Uber eats guide. link in sig.

Maybe also have a link to threads he made that are similar?

Just curious!

My oh my, you're demanding a professional design at $30 for two thread designs.

Personal feelings aside; that's indeed very unprofessional, especially when you're entrusting things to be done in a timely matter.

I hope you two can resolve this in the near future.

To be fair if you take the actual context of this matter

I posted a request

He contacted ME

Several other people also PM'd me but I had already went with Astrogen.

I understand now its not a fair price but at the time of posting I just threw out a number

Astrogen coulda easily asked for more money if that was the problem

Per contract that HE started states 2 thread designs for $30, he agreed to it.

Astrogen is just going around scamming people. He needs to be removed from the site.

Don't listen to Scrub for your thread designs you need to be with Cyam

I mean each time I buy from him I get the promised product so yeah

Why are you even arguing with this clown who has a wife and kid and spends the entire day on HF harassing everyone and exploiting bytes to sell them? He's a fucking joke but he doesn't understand it.

i kinda agree into this , you can't get anything professional look for $15 .

but since astro messaged OP, so OP might assumed that he will get same good looking thread design like what astro had in his portfolio .

and oh btw your animated threads are really great , to OP, you might consider hiring this guy (Herbert) if you can pay his price. ?
