Thread: Your proverbs....

L1I DuRk - November 28, 2021, 6:25 am

Yeah I know most of us on here are past 20's and as well some with kids. I want to know your choice of proverb you grew up with or yours that you think the next generation after you should take very serious. For me this are my first two.

- 1) Be wise as a serpent and be gentle as a dove
- 2) Never be influenced by friends, choose your path in life.

Where are the wise men on HF let have some conversation.

"The risk is not taking the risk."

"If you find yourself going through hell, keep going."

"Don't be a dick."

"If you want to know your future look into your present actions"

"If you respect others, others will respect you"

"There's a solution for everything"

"The circumstances of one's birth are irrelevant, it is what you do with the gift of life that determines who you are."

The first you stated above is deep and really thorough about someone current state in life so we really need to check our actions and choices every day to know what the future holds.

I agree with you on this absolutely, born into a poor family never mean one will die poor.

"Shit happens, learn to flush or deal with the smell." (Get over it, dwelling on the bad things of the past only irritates the senses)

"Ability isn't granted by Education" (On both sides... There's educated idiots, and shit like the occasional garden-shed nuclear reactor)

"Ooh look, an Honest Politician" (What's being presented sounds like an impossible contradiction of terms)
