You know what I just realized Imfao? The sellers on HF that were selling software back in 2012-2015 such as RATs, and cryptography, and took bitcoin as a payment, are literally multi-millionaires right now on this forum. That's CRAZY. LOOOOOL

Unless they converted their crypto for cash as they needed it, which lots of people did

I currently have around $10k worth of BTC in a random gambling site. Anyone that helps me claim my money, will get a good percentage off of it. Don't really know how to trash BTC addresses back to websites. On top of that, I only have like 12 transactions on my BTC wallet.

Crypto has been the gold rush of the 21st century who would have thought

Regulus - November 28, 2021, 5:10 pm

Pretty sure 90% of them exchanged their crypto for PP or something else lmao.
But yeah, some of them definitively have a big amount of funds.

strol - November 28, 2021, 5:40 pm

I've been thinking about this lately too and was talking to my spouse about it, absolutely insane that they could make that much money off of that. Most probably cashed out but I know for a fact some still have millions worth in btc on their wallets

Orb - November 28, 2021, 6:55 pm

If they didn't exchange it for cash, which most people including me eventually did before it went to the moon. If they did hold it they would be really wealthy right now indeed.

Its fuckin nuts

Lindros - November 28, 2021, 8:08 pm

Why do you assume that they kept their bitcoin all this time?

?nxy - November 28, 2021, 8:20 pm

Man fuck cryptocurrency I hate it

SIM-353284 - November 28, 2021, 8:38 pm

I'm sure some people get what they deserved.

??? - November 28, 2021, 8:52 pm

I doubt this honestly maybe 1/100

wow I remember that I've gone through about 1k BTC in my life just imagine.

EDIT : 57,337,100.00 if I had saved.

Omniscient - November 28, 2021, 10:16 pm

Most converted their BTC to fiat including me. I do have some but practically nothing from over 3 years ago. It's an opportunity lost but another chance to make it right by holding now.

Albert - November 28, 2021, 10:48 pm

Lmfao00 times back then were crazy, I still look back at my old blockchain wallet

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

It sucks but I learned from this and definitely am holding my crypto now

This number made me feel things deep inside.

Keep grinding man, plenty more opportunities on the horizon

Lrrr - November 28, 2021, 11:12 pm

Without usage it would never have been worth what it is.

Yeah, but for every seller of BTC, there is always a purchaser lmfao. So it's very possible a few people have a shit ton of BTC that they were purchasing off people like myself, you, and many others. Feels sad, however I feel much better knowing a person like you, who I know must of had quite a few BTC, converted it haha. No offense.

lol when you gave away btc to farm rep ?

Some of us had likeable personalities and charisma ?

clicked - December 7, 2021, 2:35 pm

People giving away BTC for rep back in 2013 is insane to me, but the usage from the coin back then is why it is what it is today.

Simon77 - December 7, 2021, 9:23 pm

I didn't even knew about bitcoin back then, I was a kid lol. But really there are people who got their hands on some decent amount of BTC then just forgot about it, then realised about the BTC in like 2016 and were successful in recovering their wallets. Those guys are on private islands probably haha

Charybdis - December 8, 2021, 4:44 pm

I wish I had invested back when it was $200/bitcoin but I was a little jit with no money

Crippy - December 15, 2021, 9:08 pm

I remember having .5 bitcoin back in the days, which was worth like 1k.
