Thread: Invest in these cryptos and become a millionaire \(still room for 10-100x's+\)

SIM-5051500 - November 29, 2021, 2:36 pm

It seems to be so many people these days investing in meme coins for fun or projects that they don't understand. We are still very early in the space and recognizing that is important. The following cryptos below I've researched thoroughly and it is my assertion that with sufficient investment these cryptos will make you a millionaire.

1. Ultra (UOS): They are currently partnered with AMD and Ubisoft among elrond, sandbox, cudis etc. This one has gone under the radar for a while I invested in this at the start of the year. This is a game distribution platform similar to steam ultra takes 15% revenue share as opposed to most game distribution platforms and what makes ultra special is that it's not just a platform for games but entire ecosystem which dapps etc can be implemented (theta is already in the client). They have a universal SDK meaning games in the commonly coded language on xbox, playstation and pc can be ported into it. NFTs in gaming will give ownership to the players, the game you buy is an NFT and be resold after a duration set by the creator. Imagine an exclusive game being sold with like 20000 copies or 100 unique NFT swords being added every season within the game. the possibilities are endless. The owner has bragged several times on how there will be MILLIONS of gamers playing on Ultra next year. This is the best GAMING/METaverse crypto project.

2. Lukso (LYXE): Lukso is a blockchain basically for the new digital lifestyle. Digital clothing aka fashion, universal identity across blockchains, and tokenization of assets are some of the things they are focusing on. Fabian Vogelsteller is the founder and was a cofounder of the ethereum foundation, prominent things to note include proposing the ERC 20 standard among many other things. He runs lukso with his wife, great power couple. NFTs/Fashion and Universal Profiles(authentication across blockchains)are the main things they are going for here but there's a whole lot more. They also have advisors on board from nike to chanel to instagram.

3.DTravel (TRVL): They are a DAO so think decentralized airbnb. Their team is top tier consisting of the person who wrote cardanos whitepaper all the way to bookingDOTcom cofounder to former airbnb executives. They are backed by Travala an already successful crypto flights project.

4. UTU (UTU): Trust infrastructure for the internet. reviews and ratings are often manipulated they aim to essentially be the standard of the entire internet to ensure authenticity . They are backed by animoca brands(sandbox, axie infinity) elrond travala etc. Already working product in south africa

5. Cudos(CUDOS): Partnered with AMD, Ultra, elrond etc. basically going to make use of phones and computers to allow you to mine other coins

6. Bridge Mutual Insurance(BMI): Can basically provide and get coverage over smart contracts, stable coins and exchanges.

7. Propy (PRO): NFTs within real estate basically, nft'd the first house pretty self explanatory.

8. GET Protocol (GET): NFTs and tickets at concerts. collectibles all that stuff already servicing several ticket providers.

9. dotmoovs (MOOV): Play to earn blockchain sports NFT game. They have great artificial intelligence tech very fun mobile app compete with others around the world. They have football ambassadors Ricardo Quaresma and Luis Figo. backed by moonrock capital etc.

10. Syntropy (NOIA): They basically have a grand plan to change the entire current internet framework security, privacy, performance just next generation connectivity basically. partnered with elrond

These are the coins I'm invested in above and have heavily researched from reading their whitepaper, actively asking questions in telegram chats/seeing how the project is doing, reading articles and watching interviews.

Honorable mentions

Elrond: This will be big one day huge ecosystem making great developments in the space. Will eventually reinvest back in given the opportunity.

Hypr: I hold a bit of this its a social media platform looks really smooth some good early NFT artists on it.

Travala: Flights and crypto, looking for an entry with this. I see more potential in the 10 I've listed.

I haven't looked too deep into these next 2 but DEXE and FluidFi look promising.

May you all be millionaires and if this helps you out in anyway I'm grateful I could help you out/open you up to some more actual projects with unique use cases/value propositions within the market with sound fundamentals. I'm not the best writer just decided to write this up real quick good luck guys.

Tesseract.mk - November 29, 2021, 2:40 pm

A friend at work has been shilling FluidFi for a while, back before it changed its name, I can't remember what it was before though.

I'm not willing to part with my Radix to buy into FluidFi though.

What's with the sudden influx of bullshit posts?

I only skimmed, but still. Like the third thread from a brand new user trying to sell me something in the past hour.

Edit: Yeah, my bad. He wasn't one of the scammers.

I would rather gain 10-30% short terms than gaining 10000% assuming all of these coins are real projects not just pure scam

Remember when btc was in his first days ? -it was 10$ per coin when I first heard about it

Now my point is -You have to hold when you buy any crypto so hold a solid coin not that just pure pump and dump scam shit coins in my opinion

Huge potential man.

Good post I have already heard of several of these but will look into others. I think its important to note that partnerships dont really mean much without further details on what the partnership actually entails.

swirlee - November 30, 2021, 4:13 pm

I'm very interested in $PROPY

IMO it has future potential within the real estate sector and sounds very promising, also supported by Silicon Valley Leaders.

Omniscient - November 30, 2021, 4:57 pm

Here is the crazy thing about the market. I have yet to look at the crypto listed by SIM-5051500 beyond reading the first post. But he looks like he's at least doing research on these himself and not just pumping. Based on that assumption the way this insane market is I'm willing to bet that if I took $10k and put $1k into each of these that I'd make money in a year just by one of these doing a 50x. That's why right now, it's feeling super easy to pick winners. At least imho.

When I have more free time I'll try to read more on these and if any catch my attention I might make a new reply to this thread.

Based on those 10 descriptions this one interested me the most. Uniqueness is become a rare quality in the cypto space.

Yup they have some good webinars on their youtube channel and the founder is in Miami actively doing conferences all the time. It's a big focus on just educating people on the utility of blockchain and how it makes everything easier in relation to real estate. They have a learn and earn program they're doing now basically just connecting with as many real estate agents as they can incentivizing them to take advantage of this technology. They'll be among the first movers in the space.

Yea I've watched some of the stuff on Syntropy and it's a lot more technical for me but just seems so fundamentally sound in improving the internet as a whole. It's a-lot of great breakdowns on their youtube channel but In just one scenario in terms of esports events it would make them more secure and faster. They have advisors on board with prior experience from AT&T, Verizon to Microsoft etc.

You really should check them out I had no idea of the varying sectors in crypto and it seems like so many of these can be first movers in their space. What history has shown us is that new technology always beats out the old. The old can only continue to monopolize it for a certain period until it's just too much demand and value being demonstrated.

I think a-lot of the NFT stuff and giving possession to people is going to be major. The joy of ownership and control is not something to underestimate within people. I am comfortable with all my investments in these coins and they will be long term holds for me.

Pump and dumps can make people become a millionaire but it wont make someone stay a millionaire.

Best wishes on these coins. My only advice to yall is remember to cash out and dont be a bag holder of these as in a few years, they wont even be remembered

As always, I will quote this post and never change my post for the record. Done this for all the previous alt coins that pumped and dumped and it never failed.

Of course the only coin I recommend long term is Bitcoin, either BTC, BCH or BSV

I can respect this take. I believe all the coins I listed have a valid use case for the future. NFTs aren't going anywhere, the beauty of ownership and giving control to the creators with things like royalties, authenticity etc. is major. We will have to see.

I am curious as to why you've just listed bitcoin, the stable coin and its fork? Do you just believe in crypto as a hedge against inflation? Do you not see any value in the asset of blockchain technology, NFTs, DAOs or decentralization? Just browsing the top 100 on coingecko alone will show you so many nice projects with serious backing from businesses.

I been involved in Bitcoin/crypto since 2011. Even have comments about it here on HF when it was under $50. There is always new cryptos being pumped and there is always these cryptos being dumped and forgotten. It never changes. One thing never changes tho, Bitcoin is still here and when it goes down, these alt coins will eventually go down harder. When bitcoin goes up, if these alt coins are lucky they may go up too but one day they wont, thats when you know its dead.

Bitcoin and crypto is open source. Anything done on 1 crypto can eventually be added to Bitcoin if the market wants it to.

If you own Bitcoin (BTC) at a particular time you got its forks for free BCH and BSV. BSV already has a decentralized exchange, NFTs, etc so it clearly can be added to bitcoin without issue.

Again BTC, BCH or BSV are what I see long term

It's a perspective but one I don't share equally. There is a lot of room for technological advancement from other blockchains. And yes Bitcoin can potentially add features BUT only after it's already very popular on another platform. Bitcoin didn't crush the rise of Ethereum when they introduced Smart Contracts. Bitcoin isn't going to crush DeFi, NFT, or any other number of new uses.

As for BCH and BSV. Sorry but no way are those strong investments. BCH for instance is still down 87% from their ATH even in this huge bull market where just about everything else worth a nickel has gotten their ATH from 17-18 back.

Hackers - January 13, 2022, 12:48 pm

I like the effort you put into sharing your thoughts, and the passion you have for each. It's always nice to have bullish predictions. For example, I see x10 multiples of even the large cap coins over the next 4-12 years. I could definitely imagine x100 multiples on even Bitcoin or Ethereum by 2050, or maybe sooner depending on laws, global currency efforts, etc.

I do invest in small cap coins, but I am pretty strict with which projects I include in my portfolio.

I haven't had the time to research every project you mentioned and I am a little worried that I haven't heard of many. That said, your descriptions seem promising so I'll check each out.

DTravel and decentralized airbnb - I love the idea of this, but I think it's going to be hard to implement without centralized / layer 2 solutions to handle compliance, property damage claims, and more. If you look into what airbnb has had to do to resolve problems for renters and landlords, it's scary. There are thousands of cases that would be hard to resolve without a centralized authority of sorts there to mediate and provide solutions.

I am very glad to know that one of Cardano's original contributors is involved. I am hoping that would mean this specific project is well thought out, planned, and has academic support to show that rental risks and contingencies are all handled in-network some way or another.

Also shout out to Cardano / ADA. I can definitely see how the network will lead ADA to a value of $100+ one day, even if that day is years away. If things do indeed go to plan, things are very hopeful for Charles & co. I even have some ADA trades still at -50% that I hold because I buy a little bit more every week and tripled my money off of it after May crash. We look lined up to triple up to almost $4 soon if things go well with overall market to allow us to break over $1.31-1.5

SIM-5051500 - January 13, 2022, 2:41 pm

$PRO aka propy was just listed on coinbase... seems I might actually have a brain after all...definitely still believe in all these coins and I went over it a bit more in my blog. UOS is prime for a release during the summer leading into fall most likely keep your eyes out.

In regards to your dtravel point I do believe they have from the start over a million dollars in the property damage/insurance fund or whatever ready to go and this team is very professional. I don't know much about Cardano honestly but we shall see.

"I DONT TRUST HIM"

Lol you haven't asked for anything and have actually offered your insight for free. Not sure why these guys are calling you a scammer.

Pretty simple. Low IQ. They don't know what a scammer is probably or use the word wrong. Like people saying TA doesn't work because they are shit at it or do it wrong. People calling OP a scammer prolly think he recommended those coins to "scam" them of their money, cuz they invest and coin don't moon x1000 therefore he must be a scammer.

Morale, LOW IQ, because it makes absolutely no sense. In both examples.
