Thread: Looking for a mentor, willing to split earnings.

GEKSINO - December 4, 2021, 10:42 am

Hey, so ive been e-whoring back in the days with the kik method and now im totally lost. I would like to get mentored and im willing to split my earnings. I need a pretty high amount for next August/September and it is really important.

Backstory into spoilers for those who wanna read it:

Spoiler (Click to View) So I was e-whoring back in the days when I was 16-17 for non-essential purposes : clothes, accessories and even CS:GO skins. I am now 21. On my teenage years I had social problems, and when I really went out to people etc... at 19 I found that people's attitude wasnt really good for me. At 20, I went 2-3 times at another city to see some IVL friends of mine and changed mind : maybe my city's attitude isnt adapted for me. So couple months later, something happened and I got really mad. I went without money, unprepared, frauding trains (more than 10 hours away, I had to take the slow ones because they didnt have verifications at their entry and I had to change at another city). I met some IVL friends there, and many new people, took girls snaps (thing that I never did on my city) and many shit. I didnt sleep many times tho but it was ok (like 60% of the time I succeed to get myself an hotel), I was trying to find some job there. At some point I got sent to psychiatric hospital, then two nurses working at my city's PH got sent to bring me there, we took train. The guy working there in my city said to my family -that is too protective- to call the police if I do it again and yeah I got out finally. I did it one more time but it was a bit ok, I had a money revenue even if it was little. I got caught by the police, they called my family, stood 3 days in the hospital (and this hospital always give me some medication to drink, valium, that makes me feel really sleepy and I cant really talk, unlike the hospital on my city when I got transferred first time they stopped giving me that shit) and then my family bought me a ticket, they knew one my friends there so they told the hospital that he was gonna bring me to the train, he did it. Then this summer I got once again manipulated by someone here that made profit off me. The same day, one of my friends from the other city called me and told me that he was here near my home, so every day after he finishes with his friends he came vacation with he takes me on his car and we get music, smoke hookah, have a talk...

Then week finishes, he gets home. And like 2 months later, I get once again a problem because of vicious people on this city I live in. I started being mad and talking about that on a group he was. He contacted me in private and told me he has work for me : his friend can hire me on a Amazon delivery thing.

Here comes the point : im broke atm and I need to know how to drive to work there. So to definately change my life and move away from this city where I dont feel I belong, I need my driver license = 1300€ for 20hours (1700 for 30), a decent but affordable car like a Clio 3 = from 2500€ to 4000€ (he told me about that because its really hard there to move without a car nowadays, it is a big region with a big city in its center and so many -medium or little- cities around) and also money to keep until I get there, to live (airbnb/hotel until I get an apartment), eat, gas for the first month there until I get my first wage.

Thanks in advance! [warn]

Post in the correct section: Jobs and Partnerships , or Buyers Bay if you're looking to pay someone for help.

Im actually posting in a correct section aswell since it concerns e-whoring. And I wouldnt post in these sections you linked because they seem LQ for me and used for basic things (not like e-whoring in my case).
