Thread: Naraka Bladepoint | GunZ the Duel

Beherit - December 6, 2021, 12:40 am

Are there any HF users playing this game? I recently got it but haven't jumped in. It looks and sounds good.

The mechanics remind of the classic GunZ the Duel with the way you control your character.

Comparisons to GunZ the Duel:

I heard about it, very cool, a lot of cheat (ESP, AIM, RADAR) - I don't know if the cheat ruined the game and if it's good balance or all pay to win. But i'm available to try, still better with team mate :)

Yes, the cheats may have affected it quite a bit. It use to have 'Mostly Positive' reviews, now it's 'Very Positive'.

Here's some pros and cons from a recent review:

Quote:Pros:

- Fun mechanics to learn and master
- A refreshing Battle Royal game mixed with Fighting Game
- Great Graphics

Cons:

- Low Quality of life
- Season quest are un-accessible when I bought the game
- Unrewarding quest unless you bought a Season pass
- Long Queue time (I have 11 hours of play time on steam and only 1 hour of actual Match time and 4+ hours of Practice)
- Matchmaking is broken, after playing 2 solo games I am always match-up with a 100+ games players, one time I played with someone on leaderboard.
- Game's anti-cheat (NEAC) is one of the worst anti-cheat (there are forums on internet that has tutorials to bypass NEAC).
- NOT FRIENDLY TO NEW PLAYERS AND CASUAL GAMERS, High Learning curved and only on Practice match you will be able to play while learning, on other game modes you will always matched up with experienced players.
- To enjoy the game fully you need to pay and play with your thick wallet.

This review is not really positive ahah, waiting so long to play it's a sign of "no players". But let's give it a try. It's free ?

It's $19.99 in the Steam store right now. It was on sale few days or so ago; should've made a thread earlier.

I used to LOVE Gunz - The Duel.

I it was a game built on glitches haha.

I read your review and I have to say, it doesn't seem too appealing atm.

I loved playing GunZ back in 2008 ish. Before the cheat clients randomly bombing the whole map. Might have to look into this game a little more if it's similar to GunZ minus the cheats.

Damn GunZ used to be so good, the butterfly sword method was the GOAT.

The nostalgia is hitting.

Right, I think Naraka would be nice if you're playing with a squad of friends. But, I think if you play any game with friends, it will be fun regardless.

Get on Freestyle Gunz or Universal GunZ; they deal with hackers accordingly and staff are proactive in FGunz.

Personally, I only play on FGunz at the moment.

Indeed, feel free to get on Freestyle Gunz. I still get on for an hour or so every other day to destroy my hands.
