The Insiders - Official Group Introduction thread

Previous Monthly Challenges. <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6190427>

We are a high quality group with no option for purchase/buy-in.

Being an insider on HackForums means you will become a part of a encapsulated, private group of individuals looking to benefit each other. We plan on standing out from the crowd by sharing our perks/benefits together. Users are not required to contribute, unless they want to receive the shared benefits. Becoming an insider starts here with a post about yourself, we are no longer looking to rally a recruitment thread and would just like people to leave a post on what would make them a good fit with us.

The Insiders will be composed of multiple sections. We will be looking to give leadership roles to users within the group. This will include a gaming section, and whatever else our community would like to see.

We plan on creating a community with longevity, and integrity. We want to have a long standing relationship with all users who join, and want to be a worry free environment for people to thrive together.

We are looking for new users to come and take part in this journey as a team.

Post below if you have any perks to bring on board for the team, or if you are just simply interested in taking part of a new era on HackForums.

[$(5)] - December 13, 2021, 4:34 pm

Very excited for a new endeavor with The Insiders. Definitely going to be one of the greatest.

Oh I see. That seems somewhat hard to create, considering so much has been shared!

I will do some digging and see if there is anything I can bring of use to the forums.

Good luck with the group guys.....

Notice u got two interesting guys in there..... for sure.

Palestine - December 21, 2021, 8:55 am

I've always been intrigued with that black username color and the white background shadow definitely stands out nicely! Love the group concept as well, definitely reminds me of The Foundation which is also fairly new so hopefully both groups can come together in the future and see what can come out of it! Best of luck with your group!

Hey all, K1. here AKA K1!

I'm a simple guy, I'm a Forex day trader and long term Crypto investor, my aim is quite simply to generate more income streams through Forex, Crypto holding, staking, nodes etc

Looking forward to trading knowledge with fellow members, I have a few things up my sleeve that I'm looking forward to showing you guys!

This group has some real high quality members in it and it's a pleasure to be here

[$(5)$] - December 23, 2021, 4:39 am

We are still openly recruiting new members to the group.

Sixen+ - December 24, 2021, 4:48 pm

Sup everyone. Looking forward to new things going on in this group.

Some of you may know who I am, some of you may not. I've been here for a long time. Started exchanging back in 2015, now I just stick around here for the crypto talk. I'm highly invested pretty much across the entire space and spend a lot of my time keeping up with the market.

I am a trader - mostly futures. I live off the volatility of the crypto market. I'm pretty deep into statistical indicators and probability and could talk your ear off forever about it if you let me. I work with a team off site that develops and publishes them on tradingview. Ideally, I'd love to show everyone what I know and possibly help you become a better trader (I never stop learning myself).

I would love to join this group!

I joined HF in 2014, primarily to learn how to RAT (lol) it lead me to learning about crypters, which cost money and eventually lead me to the eWhoring section, because I needed money for the crypters :x.

Fast forward a few years later, I found my passion for business, have launched a couple of products and services that have generated quite a bit amount of money (:

Looking forward to this!

Eran - January 29, 2022, 1:11 pm

Looks pretty dope, I would like to be a part of your group if given the chance.

Unfortunately I don't have many skills that I can list in my reply. Something I have done for passive income in the past is eWhoring, referrals etc.

I have been a staff member for a 3rd person shooter private server game for 3 years (GunZ, not naming the server) and have got good SE skills.

I am exploring waters in affiliate marketing and if anyone else is on the same journey maybe we can share tips and help eachother. Would also like to know more about investing into crypto when I get the capital money.

Overall, I am on a journey to financial freedom and just looking to set up a few passive incomes and meet like-minded people.

Hi,

I'm going to be honest, this group looks really cool. I love the idea 100%.

Here is what I can offer.

1. File hosting
2. Game cheat services e.g. GTA, RDO, CoD, EFT
3. Website design
4. Movie recommendations!

I am also pretty good with weapons training, though I really don't see how that will help, but it might be interesting in discussions.

Would love to join the group. I have experience in coding in python and c++.

Also have knowledge about data structures and algorithms, marketing and love management work.

As a perk, I could give the following:-

1. 12% off for my nitro services for group insiders.
2. 20-25% off on my discord and telegram coding service, plus I can code a bot for an insider discord server for the group (if there is any such server) for free. I don't have a bot coding thread here yet, but I have vouches and threads on other forums, will make them here soon!

P.S.- I know I am very new here, but I want to provide good value to the group as well as community in general.

Thoth - March 6, 2022, 12:39 pm

I feel that I would be an excellent addition to The Insiders because unlike some groups here on HF, The Insiders seems to be seeking individuals with the most skills/experience instead of the most cash. As a Senior in college, attending for my Bachelors in Information Tech with a minor in Business. I can provide a skill set that would seem to be a perfect addition to your group. These skills consist of knowing social engineering, marketing, programming, real world 'pentesting' experience, and can say with absolute truth that I have well over 10 years of experience in this field(s). If you would consider giving me the opportunity to become a part of The Insiders, I would be more than happy to answer any additional questions, or complete a task to prove my worth/skill set. I hope to hear back from you soon, best wishes to you all!

Stanley - March 22, 2022, 6:20 pm

I'm Stanley HF's helper bot. The OP (original poster) of this thread wants everyone to see this page and has elected to bump it to the top of the showthread listing. Since HF doesn't want a ton of LQP (Low Quality Posts) this is the best method of bumping your content. There is a small ?yte fee for each bump. Any OP can bump any of their threads on HF from the linked icon on the top of their first post.

If you haven't already read the first post of this thread we encourage you to do so.

Thanks,
Stanley

Would be cool to join a group. I'm a veteran online marketer with 5+ years experience in ecommerce, Facebook Ads, Social Media, Paid Ads, Email Marketing etc so I would be of help to any members who are interested in those sort of things. I'm also an intermediate web developer with a decent understanding of HTML, CSS, JavaScript so I can help members bring their ideas to life. Finally I'm launching a SaaS business that's gonna change the ecommerce/dropshipping world and I can give Insider Members exclusive access. Looking forward to getting accepted. Seems like an awesome group.

I posted about the quality of the group before, now I'll throw my hat in the ring and write up an application.

I'm an old Army vet that served as a Combat Medic. Once I retired I started doing military contracting, and that's still what I do to this day.

I've been extremely active here these last 2 months, and I plan on staying that way.

I like the ideas The Insiders believes in based off longevity of the group, contributions, and brotherhood. I've seen how this group treats it's members and it's something to be written about.

We aren't accepting 'applications', in our experience they have always lead to mostly LQ memberships. But if you have real interest in the group & make it known, we will consider you as a member. We are always looking to add those who we feel would make a good fit.

Peace be upon you.

I'd like to start by saying, the crescent moon in the GFX is a good fit for my avatar.

I think the colors match as well, and personally, as an aesthetic imposed type of guy, I couldn't consider a group that didn't have a userbar that would go with my color scheme.

I'm new here to HF. I recently upgraded to l33t with the intention of posting poems and maybe a service or two.

I'm working on some service ideas currently, and never want to jump right in and supply sub-par services..

I only have around 100 posts on HF, but I believe 95% of them are "HQ" and the other 5% are high quality, but short and relatively inconsiderable for true value. In turn, I would consider myself a high quality member.

I am Muslim. I believe that first and foremost my religion and will to share the truths that it has taught me in a peaceful, careful way is the number one thing I can contribute to any group or forum. I am obligated to make Islam look good through being an upstanding example in the way I live, speak, and carry myself. This includes how I treat others, how I hold back from certain topics and how I go about responding to those that I don't.

Besides my religion, I have a creative side that I developed before finding my faith and developing my understanding of my faith and religious practices. From making music, to writing, to dancing, singing, acting and partying, I have developed a sort of personality that even without any of my hobbies still rings true. I am lighthearted and bubbly and choose to smile as long as I'm still standing.

I hope that with a group of individuals, I can provide a religiously permissible version of all of my services. I hope that a group that accepts me would work with me and challenge me to fulfill goals and create in ways that is beneficial to those working with me, but also acceptable to me as a believer and practicing follower of Islam. I am limited to certain obligatory rules (halal and haram, makruh, Sunnah), and I believe that with some push to provide content for upstanding members on this forum, I can find acceptable ways to provide my creativity an outlet.

I hope this rings true for you.

I also have some sales experience from Door 2 Door and some online/irl business experience, but nothing too crazy.

I don't play video games anymore, but still could enjoy a discussion about them.

May God bless our correspondence and you for your time.

All praise be to the Most High, the Glorious, the Exalted.

I guess I'm glad I just joined. I don't know if I was mature enough at 14 to handle this site and the knowledge it provides, however I'd likely be further in the technological field and likely have a niche by now. God knows best, and I pray He forgives me for guessing.

Still, I believe a niche developed on a mature and well-designed foundation of respect and trust earned over time is better than one built on rickety stilts caused by teen hormones and ignorance. I read about TeamPoison and MLT started when he was twelve.

I try to imagine myself when I was twelve. If I had access to the information he did, I likely would have ended up doing some time, too.

I remember disguising a RAT as a .png as I was 14 or 15 and sending it to a lot of my friends from school and online through Skype to get Minecraft passwords and stuff. I'm lucky I never really learned past that point.

I hope to still learn how to reignite the interest that lead me to stuff like that when I was so young, as high school and my social life stole me away from my passion for technology and the internet. I plan to apply my ethics and morals now, however, and if I must learn black hat techniques, I pray I apply them in a white hat fashion.

Here's to ten more, sir.

All praise be to God.

If you are a man of Allah does he truly want you to be in this place of heathens?

I laughed some at this.

Honestly, I've had this same question. Still, I do a decent job of sticking to News, Current Events, and threads that don't decisively lead to disbelief I think. I mean I hope I do.

I joined the site with the sole intention of spreading Islam, I didn't really know if I would stick around or anything but figured maybe I could find a niche here and have a little corner of the site to myself and my religion to share and maybe help some people who are lost. I used to be.

I found after joining there is a Religion, Philosophy, and Politics section. I have been mostly active there.

I am hoping to study for an Information Security degree in the next year, and am working towards a CompTIA certification now. I truly believe that this is the center-hub of all things IT and I pray that as I'm attending seminary if God ever decides that the IT path leads towards vulnerabilities that he distance me from them in a smooth and practical manner.

I believe in having a trade, a skill I can practice alongside my religion. My main goal of course would be to have a successful career in religion and spreading truth and God's Word, but I've always had a passion for learning and I figured I may as well use what I know from the few years I went to trade school and studied IT and the 10 years of gaming that I've acquired to supplement my income and maybe allow me a cyber approach to spreading Islam in the future.

If you were just joking, I'm sorry I took you seriously enough to write this much. I appreciate the reflection regardless, all praise be to God.
