Thread: [Excess of Body Hair \[OPINIONS \]](#)

Rahul007rhp - December 16, 2021, 4:10 am

Is having excess of body hairs on hands, legs okayish these days or you will plan to get rid of it ?
OPINIONS

Well, I'm the one who has a good hair growth on most parts of my body. I have been trolled in school/college regarding the same.

These days to fit into society you have to be like others IMHO or people are gonna troll you.

Definitely on women's it won't be suitable .

What do you guys think on it ?

Crippy - December 16, 2021, 4:18 am

I mean like it's normal where I'm from. But let's say a country where majority have less body hairs then possibly it's a different situation. Honestly, I don't care unless the person is wearing a tank top and is fat with hair coming out of his chest and all which is disgusting.

A lot of women like hairy guys, in fact a lot of women are more keen on the 'cave man' type of guy than they'd like to admit.

I have a heavy beard and quite hairy arms and legs, which I can live with, but I think if I had a lot of back hair or something, that would be the time to call up the sadistic lady with the wax strips.

I agree with you on this. My GF loves hairy guys. So I consider myself lucky.

Btw I prefer to use a trimmer or a body shaver rather than calling up sadistic lady with wax strips. (Can't even imagine your pain man).

I personally find body hair kinda nice, but it really depends on how much it is.

It's natural for sure and it doesn't bother me at all.

But a bushy down there for ladies is too much for me, lights off innit <3

bk randy - December 16, 2021, 6:57 am

I don't ever think about this, I don't think you should worry either. People are probably just "trolling" you out of low self esteem because they're a baby face bitch.

My ex liked me being hairy as long as it didn't look like an unkept hobo and even then she didn't really say anything, she had two friends that didn't like facial hair but they both had their own problems lol

Styx - December 16, 2021, 8:55 am

For those who do sports, these hairs are very annoying. The definitive solution for this seems to be laser

I used to work with a woman who literally paid her boyfriend to have a beard - she gave him actual currency to grow his beard, she liked it so much.

My wife's not a fan though, I often have a short beard because I'm lazy (rather use a beard trimmer once a week than smooth shave every day), but if it goes too long she wifes me into shaving it off.

You gotta shave that shit off man

Pikachu - September 4, 2022, 9:08 am

Its completely natural for anyone to have lots of hair, it's our personal preference whether we like it or not. If it's something you personally don't like on yourself in certain areas of your body look into a more long term hair removal option like laser hair removal

SIM-3343347 - September 4, 2022, 9:11 am

I use to remove almost every month, cuz at gym its annoying, from pit hair, down near dragon ball z, chest hair is ok, i tend to remove yearly

Be a man about it.

My pubes have a beautiful tapered appearance.

Get swoll and shave everything off, makes your muscles pop.

P1N7 - September 5, 2022, 7:54 pm

You're not a man until you get a full torso wax, but don't waste your money go to a legitimate place that uses wax beads and not that paper stick method.

Casp?r - September 6, 2022, 6:07 am no man should shave there body a trim for the lower regions is all you need. embrace it.

Depends if you are fine it's okay and natural but if you have problems with cysts or hidradenitis suppurativa you should do laser and remove them

DashPHP - September 8, 2022, 12:08 am

As long as you love yourself before being conscious what others think about you, then you do what you please!

My bro is definitely more hairier than me and he hates it but it doesn't bother him.

Eran - September 8, 2022, 4:44 am

I'm only getting a little more chest hair than I'd like so I like to get rid of that when it's summer.

Crowned - November 9, 2023, 10:54 pm

I like to keep myself clean and well shaved, but hair for hands or legs is completely normal and it's more than fine to keep it.

Excessive body hair is a requirement for my future husband for whatever that's worth

All over? Face ? Body or just everywhere

Joel - November 14, 2023, 11:26 pm

I fucking love hair on guys. I love beards, chest hair, arm hair, all of it! but excessive armpit hair is gross to me. But it really is a personal preference thing and you should do whatever makes you happy. Some men love clean shaven women and others love hair down there.

If you like being bald, be bald.

If you like wearing Jewelry, wear Jewelry.

You like having a beard, grow a beard and maintain it.

Nothing external should ever affect you and how you live your life.
