Thread: What items Do You Think Everyone Should Carry With Them At All Times?

phunted - December 23, 2021, 7:04 pm

For me definitely a phone, keys and also a wallet.

With the wallet, I only carry the bare essentials required for my journey on the day. That way, If I lose It, not everything Is lost. Oh, and just In case I get locked up In a Turkish prison, I make sure I have enough money In my ATM card.

I kept it simple, I'm sure there's some interesting ones out there.

If you dont carry your phone, keys, wallet. Make sure you carry the memory of where they are :D

We may sadly get to the point where its rational to stay strapped bevc - December 24, 2021, 12:02 am

Keys, wallet. Back in the day I used to do the pocket-patdown to make sure I had keys, phone, wallet and cigarettes before I left for work.

I struggled doing that, ive always had my bag ready the night prior to work so that way i can just walk right out the door.

SuperiorUser - December 24, 2021, 3:53 pm

Omniscient - December 28, 2021, 11:16 pm

Wallet, phone, knife...wallet should contain id, cash, one debit, and one credit.

That's bare minimum.

notLivewire - December 28, 2021, 11:23 pm

I think at least a wallet. Maybe more.

a hat. Nobody likes skin cancer, it's worth wearing a hat to avoid them. Skins cancer would cost more $$$ in the long run anyways.
