Thread: Free - Professional Investigative Services | Investigation, Private, PI

NamesAreBadForOPSec - December 27, 2021, 9:56 am

Offering my private investigative services to anyone in need.

I can investigate cyber-crimes including phishing, scams, malware, and more.

Why is it free? I used to offer these services at a cost because I needed the money, I enjoy the work, but not enough to do it as a job. I'm doing this as a hobby now, I have been published in several news publications and I am an InfoSec researcher with cybernews.com

Proof of Work:

6-month Criminal Investigation of Dominican Phishing Ring, Has led to 2 arrests and will soon be published on cybernews.com

Results:

- Incriminating Video Evidence (Caught red-handed)
- Identities of 10 of the culprits, with the rest handed off to the authorities to uncover
- Information of the inner workings of the crime ring, including infrastructure, tools used, how they made money, etc.
- Confession and testimonial from a witness close to individuals in the crime ring
- Possible justice served, as the case was handed off to the authorities with real power
- Expose of the entire operation, leading to it being shutdown

Mind-map of investigation:

To get started, private message me. If you cannot private message me, reply so I can start a conversation with you.

Please note I will ask you lots of questions about why you are requesting my services, be prepared to answer those questions. I will not help you do something wrong, I am only taking cases that I believe are morally justifiable.

I need help. I have been the victim of several cyber attacks and social engineering attempts. I have tried to manage it on my own but it's too complex for me. I would appreciate some help with this so I can be online peacefully again
