Had a great time with this one! Nice change of pace. It's good to know how flammable paper towels can be, especially when they're duct taped to my face.

These podcasts are great, and I agree about birthdays, it pisses me off how entitled and pouty some adults get about their birthday, I used to work with people who thought they should get the day off work on their birthday, and I used to think, you want a cake and the day off just because it's your birthday? What are you, 6 years old? You know who should get presents on your birthday? Your mum, she's the one who had to squeeze you out of her clacker, if anyone deserves gifts and special consideration on that day it's her.

Anyway, keep 'em coming, it's great fun to listen to.

Watching you do that live, I can only imagine your life flashing before your eyes.

Glad I'm not alone haha! Yeah there's a very toxic mentality that sometimes comes with birthdays. I'm happy you enjoyed the conversation homie.
