Thread: Jacking Social Media accounts

What is the best way to jack social media accounts? (Mainly verified twitters, etc). If I find the persons email, do I just look it up in database leaks and then try to decrypt the hashes with a program like hashcat until a login works?

If you guys have any good methods please let me know.

It's all dependent, that method works maybe 30-40 percent of the time.

If you know the age/demographic of the user you'd like to hack (for lack of better term) you could find some success in using databases that suite their demographic. I recently gained access to an Instagram account of a person I know by purchasing a plaintext Shein database, and finding her email/password in the text! Also, checkleaks.cc is a database leak tool that I can wholeheartedly endorse for this sort of thing.
