They all have good points, I wonder what people who grow up near the equator make of seasons when they leave home.

Scoppa - January 5, 2022, 12:31 pm

Summer because winter are cold as fugg here.

blackrose_x0x0 - January 5, 2022, 12:41 pm

The winters are long and cold so Spring is always my favorite season. I love seeing nature come back to life and breathing in the fresh air as it gets warmer and warmer. I'm also a fan of spring rain so there's that too.

peldon - January 5, 2022, 12:50 pm

Summer because i love the heat and sun

Lilith - January 5, 2022, 2:13 pm

Generally it's Winter, Fall, Spring, Summer for me. Some variation depending on where I'm living at the time, though.

I love seeing the fall colors. For me nothing beats a ~60 degree sunny fall day.

A Nobody - January 5, 2022, 2:45 pm

Gotta be fall. Love the sweater weather.

Joe - January 5, 2022, 2:56 pm

I've always been most in favor of fall. I hate the heat of the summer.

My favorite time of year is Summer, along with many others I see.

Summer, more going on, warm weather, lifts me up when I need it after depressing winter, and bleh spring, right before dreaded fall.

?ach season has its pros and cons. It all depends on where you live or where you spend it!

Definitely! As I said it depends on what you doing and where you at! Each season has its pros and cons!

One of the best feelings when it comes to seasons! Seeing nature come back to life is something amazing that reminds me how good life is! How wonderful our planet is and how the little things matter!
