

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: People are disconnecting after some time

Waston571 - January 8, 2022, 2:52 am

I am using quasar client and I started getting this problem like 2 days ago. When someone connects, it takes around an hour and they disappear. You may say that's because of an antivirus, but every single client I have I make them make a folder exclusion from the windows antivirus. It was working before but now it is disconnecting after some time. Should I try using another rat program? I've tried using dcrat, because it looked really good. The problem was that no one was connecting besides me.

I am using NGROK btw. But I leave my pc on with ngrok on.

nCoXo - January 8, 2022, 3:15 am

It can also be a problem from NGROK network, try with some other network and see.

Waston571 - January 8, 2022, 3:43 am

(Jan 8, 2022 04:15 AM)nCoXo Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) It can also be a problem from NGROK network, try with some other network and see.

I didn't have that problem before. I've always been using ngrok. Also what other network could you suggest?

nCoXo - January 8, 2022, 3:44 am

(Jan 8, 2022 04:43 AM)Waston571 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I didn't have that problem before. I've always been using ngrok. Also what other network could you suggest?

It's a recent issue and so I only doubted on the network problem.

You can use VPN or VPS.

Royal ! - January 19, 2022, 10:29 am

Your internet might be the issue. Switch to a VPN or something.

Perplex - January 19, 2022, 10:44 am

(Jan 19, 2022 11:29 AM)Royal ! Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Your internet might be the issue. Switch to a VPN or something.

Cause VPN will change anything if the home internet doesn't work?

OP, use a VPS with an open port. Don't ngrok into your own home connection...