Thread: Will bitcoin crash till 10k?

Linux X - January 21, 2022, 9:25 am

I just wanna know a few more opinions about that. I was thinking that it will reach 35 or 30k but day by day I'm starting to think that it could drop to 10k.

G Eazy - January 21, 2022, 9:32 am

It's not going to 10k it's just not going to happen. 25k-28k I could see but that's the lowest in my opinion.

Vitaly - January 21, 2022, 9:49 am

I think $18-20k is around the place i'd be looking to go full risk on, do i think we see 10k again? probably not but the people saying "its just never gonna happen, its impossible" are delusional, with the right (bad?) market conditions we could see 10k again imo, for a brief moment.

I think it could go till 10k for little time but I think it's possible.

Aeowulf - January 21, 2022, 10:09 am

I don't think it will ever go that low again. $20k may be the floor, in the LOWEST extreme dips.

Echoz - January 21, 2022, 10:16 am

I've stated not long ago that we would find some "support" around 38k but my next target is 35k. I still hold this mindset and I do not expect 20k to ever be reached again. Would be interesting to see if we double bottom at 28k-29k. I've been on the sidelines for a few weeks. Putting funds into Anchor protocol to sit until I'm ready to buy. I don't expect to buy the ultimate bottom, but I do expect to get some decent entries before we come back up again. I still have my sights set on long term over everything. I'm not selling my ETH and I'm not exchanging UST for any other coins yet. Very excited to get some great deals!

?OMEGA? - January 21, 2022, 10:17 am

I have no doubt in my mind we are gonna see BTC around 10-15 again at some point. If we truly hit a bear market see you in 10. ETH in 500

I looked from ATH to your ideal pricing. Are you basing these off of previous bear market drops of around 80-90%? If so, what draws you to think we will repeat these types of dips? Not saying it's impossible, but I'm curious to what makes you think this sir. I do not believe we will see these types of dips but it is entirely possible. Anything is "possible".

No its not because of previous bear markets. But it will become natural that we will go way lower than most expect if we hit a 2-3 year bear market. I don't think it will happen over night. But i believe we are gonna see them low.

This is my main reason to why.

Alot of old boomers are heavily invested into the traditional markets, Stock markets, Gold, Silver, and so on. And these guys don't have 20 years to wait for anything to grow anymore. And most of these boomers will sell out their stocks, gold, silver, funds. in the near future and when they do that we will see a big dip in the traditional market. Which will effect the crypto market aswell because we are not talking about a few million we are talking about alot of fucking money.

And my second reason here is.

Covid-19 is bound to cause a crash in the world economy. Local stores are dying everywhere. Inflation is sky rocketing everywhere.

And when that crash happens we will see a huge dip in all markets. Its only natural we are gonna see everything very very low.

House prices will fall
Stock prices will fall
Crypto prices will fall

This is my opinion and its based on "history repeats it self" When it comes to FIAT Especially.

shreder - January 21, 2022, 10:54 am

Lets just say if BTC hits $10k I would be able to afford a LOT of BTC from my profit stash. This is exactly why it wouldnt happen as there are a lot more people who have a lot more money than me who would buy well before I would.

People fail to realize how much infinite fiat exists. I went from not being able to afford 1 BTC last time it was $10k to possible to purchase over a couple dozen if it ever returns. There is infinite fiat printing around the globe, no interest rate hike or w.e bullshit is ever going to change that.

I personally dont care my crypto stack is stashed away staking permanently, I constantly load fiat into degi stables and DCA the dips. Infinite fiat dont forget.

Recon12345 - January 21, 2022, 11:21 am

Tbh in a worst-worst case scenario I can see bitcoin going to 5-7k, that would be the absolute floor/bottom. However that is the worst case scenario.

10-15k Is pretty much possible. However we would need a few criterias to be hit. And it will be all the other markets hit by such events not only crypto. Talking about a very bloody financial crisis here, which might or might not happen. Personally I wouldn't worry to be honest and keep accumulating more. Stake everything and forget about it. See ya back @ next bull run and we rich. Unless you got weakhands of course.

BaldCunt - January 21, 2022, 11:51 am

If it drops to 10k,
The same people who own Wallstreet will also own most of the crypto market.
Your thoughts scare me.

If ever that happens I'll need to go back to working too.
All of those hustles will be for nothing. :((

campusminger - January 21, 2022, 12:03 pm

omfg btc is going to 100k soon same people - btc is going to 10k, ima fill my bag and get rich

SA777OSHI - January 21, 2022, 12:20 pm

Considering that we've had 80% retracements from the top, I would say 15k is very possible if this is the bear market, however I would like to think that 28K will be the bottom, but we cant know for sure.

seeanopprightthur - January 21, 2022, 1:44 pm

Fuck.. gonna have to sell the house if it hits 10k

I'm almost certain $30k is going to hold up.

The money supply has increased so much that a $30k BTC today is equivalent to 2017 all time highs (around $20k). The only scenario I could see causing a sustained selloff to $20k would be a recession (and I think we would probably go under $20k).

Who could have guessed that electing a demented President would destroy the economy to this level?

10k by EOY. Also you speak gibberish, the economy was due to a correction long before Biden. What did you expected Biden do, miraculously save the economy?

I certainly hope not. If it drops below $20k I will drag the whole alt market with it. Everyone will be ridiculously cheap.

Why not? Don't you want 1000-2000% discount on everything? If that happens I am going to sell my car and put everything in crypto. It will be like Christmas!

Now you're talking about the housing market or the economy because there will be no price correction on goods in the economy. Items are just going to be cheaper out of no where. It's going to get worse with this puppet in charge. Firearm ammo has already had 4 price hikes since last year when the cost of handgun ammo doubled in price. Your box of standard hunting ammo like .243, .30-06, and .308 use to be $16 for a box of 20 rounds in January of 2021, now these boxes sell for $24 a piece as an example

Nostre - January 22, 2022, 9:18 am

They move in sync so yep, sometimes they do lag behind one another. But usually equalize at the same amount gain/loss Biden should have stimulated the economy by lowering taxes and deregulating. Instead, he is getting people fired for not getting a vaccine that doesn't work and shutting down US oil suppliers causing oil prices to skyrocket.

Markets are forward looking and based on Bidens performance so far, I'm not sure what there's to look forward too.

Obviously, pinning macro conditions on one person doesn't make much sense. BUT, I can say with certainty that his actions are a net negative for the economy and this is on his watch.

Omniscient - January 22, 2022, 12:39 pm

Previous bull market in 2008 was a high of $20k with a low afterwards around $3k. That's about 20%.

Current bull market peak was $69k and 20% of that is about $14k.

Just saying.

just feels like a low price but your definitely right i guess at one point not long ago BTC was below that number, just seems so far from 50k where it was during the height of things, definitely a buy opportunity of a lifetime after seeing this years market

Think he clearly meant the new retail buyers that bought the top (or near it) are definitely panicking.

If you've been in this space for more than 5 years this shouldn't affect you much.

No idea what youth has to do with this concept but ya

I wholeheartedly agree, long term I couldn't care less about these price swings, been here since 15' and I've never felt stronger about holding BTC.

That being said, with mass adoption (or at least increasing adoption) you'll have an influx of new users who unfortunately lose their minds after seeing how volatile this market could be.

To each their own I guess.
