Thread: Help with personal account security

Hi everyone

I would like to know if there is any tool for Kali that gives me a log of all the activities of the account by entering login credentials

This is because I assume there has been unauthorized access to my account and I would therefore like to view all the accesses made, if there is any device other than the ones I use, where they were made and if something was done (download or copy of files).

Specifically, social accounts, samsung accounts and whatsapp.
Even more than one tool if necessary

Thank you in advance for your availability

Hi,

Google has the Security Checkup feature in <https://myaccount.google.com/> . Plus points if you use Android or Google Chrome, they track a lot of your saved passwords there, and they'll tell you if you've gotten one of your passwords breached.

If you suspect you've been breached, I suggest you stop using that password as soon as you can and switch to another set of passwords. Check out this link for a few more tips:

I've done all of this before.

I was looking for something more professional with more precise information: IP address, MAC address, log of all the activities carried out by that specific device.
