Thread: Bob Saget Autopsy Reveals "Catastrophic" Skull Trauma

Handsome - February 18, 2022, 9:30 am

Bob Saget's official autopsy report determined his cause of death to be "blunt head trauma" that resulted in multiple fractures to the skull and hemorrhaging in the brain. The result appeared to contradict a statement released by the comedian's family saying he died from head trauma.

His family wrote that the 65-year-old actor and comedian had "passed from head trauma" on January 9 and concluded that he "accidentally hit the back of his head on something, thought nothing of it and went to sleep." However, according to the report released Friday, February 11, Saget's injuries were far more severe than a mere "slip and fall" accident. Moreover, he was also Covid-positive at the time of his death, the autopsy has revealed.

Quote:"This is something I find with someone with a baseball bat to the head, or who has fallen from 20 or 30 feet." "This is not a "slip & fall". This is not a minor concussion. This is MAJOR head trauma," emergency physician and researcher Dr. Megan Ranney tweeted while sharing the autopsy report.

Do you guys think he was murdered?

Omniscient - February 18, 2022, 10:08 am

Family is asking for privacy. I think if they thought it was murder they would want that investigated.

I think official story is probably fairly legit though. You can absolutely fall super hard in a bathroom and have a severe head blow. People die from a bathroom fall all the time. I don't see why he couldn't have hurt himself very badly and not recognized how bad it was to call 9-1-1. He gets into bed and dies. Why isn't that plausible?

Seems like it is a possibility. Apparently more than just one person who had access to autopsy reports/saw him before death said that his head injury was aggregious.

Idk, it sounded plausible until doctors started saying the injury is far more severe than a fall in the bathroom would cause. Not saying you can't die from a fall in the bathroom, but his skull was damaged on a 'catastrophic' level. There's just no way a fall onto the floor of your bathroom can recreate a baseball bat beating or a 3 story fall.

Then the police should investigate and the family wanting privacy wouldn't matter if that's the case. Did the autopsy say it was murder and that the blunt force trauma could not have been from a fall? Or is this some type of 3rd party speculation?

And you can absolutely fall hard enough in a bathroom to be like being hit with a baseball bat. Don't forget he's a tall guy and a slip can easily cause momentum. And imagine hitting the toilet or the sink?

Quote: "It is most probable that the decedent suffered an unwitnessed fall backwards and struck the posterior aspect of his head," the report by the chief medical examiner of Orange and Osceola counties in Florida stated.

So where are you getting your info from?

Autopsy says it's an accidental death. End of the line.

Well that's where the quote from that doctor is from. You might want to do a better job at looking for sources of statements and material.

Point blank, you're reading trashy articles.

Well, guess you can believe whatever you want.

Even if it is just he fell down and bumped his head, I bet it was from passing out from the jab like all these other comedians.

AuntEsther - February 18, 2022, 10:50 pm

Is it quite possible he took the jab, got blood clots, and the trauma to his head is really blood clots? How can he have "Catastrophic" head damage without blood? There has been no mention of the body being found in a pool of blood (which I think the hotel people, the police, etc would have leaked).

Why would there be a pool of blood when he had internal bleeding? Overall it is sad to lose such a loved actor and comedian.

If he had "Catastrophic" head trauma there would be blood coming out of some orifice. Ear, eyes, nose, mouth. May not be a lot but there would be some indication of brain bleed if it were that serious I would think. People with concussions can get that easily, when they are minor in car accidents. If he hit his head there would be bruising, swelling, and other signs of trauma. Hell, even Pimp C was found kneeling in blood splattered from every hole in his body out in LA (and his death has quite the speculative details too).

INIRKINGOFKINGS - February 19, 2022, 2:14 am

I think Bob Saget got whacked but I don't know if that's against rules to say. I just got back from a long time ago.
