Hey guys,

I'm a new client to this platform.

I really look forward to conversing and possibly working // or // possibly even maybe (but definitely in the VERY distant future...) Collaborating with any of you.

Thanks for the warm welcome, COMRADES!!!

Welcome to the forum, MazLost! What topics are you mostly interested in? ?

I'm originally from a white-hat ("ethical intentional application") malware development background, so I naturally take a great interest into end-user platform, software development project(s).

I do however have a "Little" experience in the field of cryptography and networking/communications/telecoms facilities, so pentesting around these base topics are really seeming to begin to peak my interest I think.

Anyway, thankyou very much for your kind response, I know it's a little on the nose // cheeky, however, I don't suppose that you happen to possibly be able to provide myself with a (few ;)) guides and/or tutorial type documents please?

Regardless, Many Kind Regards;

~Maz
