Thread: Marketing manager for NFT project

Hello all,

I am the developer of an NFT collection of 1,000 NFTs. I need a full time marketer who knows how to fill Twitter and Discord servers with target persons and also marketing anywhere that will help promote our project.

We are not looking for someone to pay $100 and then ditch, we want someone to join the business making it a 3 man team of Artist/Dev/Marketer. we will be making many projects so its going to be a long term job with many projects to work on.

We really want someone who knows what they are doing, can handle Social media and bounce ideas with me about marketing strategy (I use to manage teams for marketing)

I have many tools and am good with bots and automation so I use that anywhere possible. I just dont have enough time to do all the marketing and dev work.

We are wanting to pay the correct person in a % of the project, this has great potential to make someone a good chunk of change and the harder we all work the more we sell and the more we get in our pockets, so yes this could be lucrative for the right person but it really is a full-time job as we want someone who has a passion for what we are doing.

So if anyone know someone who may fit the above requirements then please hit me up.
