Thread: Bad neighbors

bejar - March 3, 2022, 9:14 am

Hello,

I have neighbors (big family) above us in the building (upstairs) . They made me crazy, every time running and jumping in the appartement .. :(

I talk to the husband 4 or 5 times the friendly way and each he says he will stop making noise. I also fill a complain to the owner and he sent the a fine but it was useless.

Now I'm pretty sure he's just making fun of me by making noise by purpose.

Is there a way to revenge in a discret way and make him leave please ??

Open to any idea

Regards,

Party at 4am for sure will ease him up

Eran - March 3, 2022, 11:20 am

Pump the volume up, give him a little taste of his own medicine.

You've to instill in their minds that continuing this will lead to consequences bad enough that it's not worth to continue.

Two ways I can immediately think of to achieve this is:

1. Convince them you're fucking crazy and that fucking with you will lead to one of them being stabbed, with you not having any remorse.
2. Contact the proper authorities that can make sure they're punished by law if they continue to not respect you.

Though I don't even know if the authorities will take this serious. Good luck.

Deauth their devices from the wifi they are using. There are many more ways to disturb the wifi.

Use the mosquito noise, annoys anyone under the age of 25, if your older than 25 you cant hear it unless you turn your volume high.

So let me tell you a story about a similar situation I am in. I moved into my apartment a year ago and 6 months in, the person above me moved out and a piece of shit moved in. A few times a week this neighbor blasts music at 3 or 4 AM!!! During these times, a few occasions while it is happening I would go upstairs and confront him and he would say sorry and turn it down. Last time he did it and I went upstairs he threatened me. So last time he did it I called the police. There is not much you can do. The only options you have are calling the landlord and letting them know. You can ask the neighbors which doesn't do anything. And you can call the police but it has to be after hours. Otherwise the law is not on your side. They can legally jump up and down the entire day as long as it doesn't fall within quiet hours. Call 311 and ask them.
