Delete this thread for all I care.

??? - March 4, 2022, 7:26 pm

Well, props to you for owning up to it. I know most of us don't care but I know this was for your mental well being so solute to you sir.
pun intended.

I came here to clear my name, I made this completely bullshit post:

Let the negativity commence.
Ok. I'll bite.

What's with the screenshotted image?

(Mar 4, 2022 06:53 PM)Komodo Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) And I know what you're thinking, this dude really came here to stolen valor twice. I wont go too crazy into dates or names for the risk of DOXing myself. But I actually was in the Army.
If called out on your BS at first, double down, aye?

Not sure what you're trying to do but thanks for the laughs

Its a picture I had saved on snapchat, cropped it to edit out the snapchat icons from the picture.
Guess I suck at cropping?
Anyway that was my first EVAC NCO, Corporal snuffy.

Corporal snuffy was a great dude, but he got me into dipping which I still do today so fuck him.

Edit:

Just for shits and giggles here's an EJ I did on Corporal Snuffy for training.

Why did you need to screenshot and crop your own picture?

All the other images were actually saved either in my phones pictures or on my desktop.
That was the only picture from snapchat I uploaded, was easier to screenshot and upload it to my computer.
All my images were cropped and edited to either not show dates or specific details that could DOX me.

I'm going to exit this thread.

It smells fishy because of your previous thread and I'm not gonna go and start a whole thing about it because frankly I don't give a shit and furthermore it's none of my businesses.

Understandable based on the last thread.
Hit me with any questions you have or anything you think is BS and I'll respond to it.

Interesting. I don't understand the point but I already spent the time reading the other thread, now this, and have time to kill.

I mean, no offense but it seemed nobody cared 5 years ago and nobody cares now, lying or not but I'll feed in since it's what you want.

Here are my questions:

So in your first lie you were a USMC Sniper and this time you're a Combat Medic? Why? Do you envy snipers? Are you a terrible shot and couldn't ever make it as a sniper so you manifested this for personal glory? What could you possibly gain from what you did?

In your first thread, you made a massive deal about sharing any sort of pictures and now for some reason have no problems sharing?

It's been 5 years since your first initial thread, you're telling me this ate away at you for 5 years in comparison to being deployed and the experiences you've supposedly had in the military?

The reasoning you provide for stealing valor in the first place makes it seem like you'd have absolutely no problems stealing valor again, you've stated doing it twice before what's stopping you from a third time?

You took a screenshot of a snapchat story using BlueStacks and you're sharing it? Could be anybody's story. Don't see why you'd have to use BlueStacks to screenshot something, knowing when you screenshot something it notifies whoever posted it, you were clearly trying to hide the fact you did screenshot it.

Haha the first one killed me.

1. Honestly my mom hated when I joined as a medic and told me to do anything else and one of her co-workers was a sniper and recommended me to do all this sniper training. First thing that came to mind when making it. Never shot a sniper, rifle shooting was pretty good. People I was involved with were very active on HF, deleting all forms of communication worked pretty well. Tanking my HF account made me never want to login again.

2. Really just making a buildup to when I finally sent the BS pictures someone would want to call my ass out. No masterplan behind it, just winged it.

3. Not like I was waking up with hot flashes and sweating from thinking about HF, but I was very active in the community and it just pissed me off whenever I thought about this site and that I was one of those pieces of shit dabbling in stolen valor.

4. True, no way to answer this really.

5. Just to help with the confusion I emailed the snapchat picture to myself so you don't have the snapchat borders anymore. Hope this helps with clarification.

True, think I answered it as best as I could above.

Don't really care if nobody cared, something I'd always wanted to come clean on.
Not looking to "feed" off it. Just needed to be said.

Ha, jokes on you. I took the shitty OPSEC JKO class.

I can tell you it has a red cross in the bottom right corner. And a Geneva convention code on the back of atleast.

Hell yea, appreciate it.

More of a thing for me I guess.
