Thread: NFT Profit Signals/Calls services on HF - BE AWARE BEFORE YOU BUY!

Bullup - March 5, 2022, 5:02 pm

Me and my team started the development of a new NFT type of project (not an NFT or profit signals but NFT tools).

During research we also noticed all these NFT profit signal services on HF and other forums, such new services release on HF every day, also by brand new accounts and i want to warn the community about these $750 services.

This warning does not apply to every service but it does to most!

It are not real profit signals made by experts, it are simply people who copy & paste NFT projects that they find on websites such as <https://nftsolana.io/> and other free NFT calendar websites. (google for NFT calendar there are a lot of them, free)

Once a project has x,xxx or xx,xxxx members in their discord and the quantity is not near or higher then the amount of users following the projects it is basically a guaranteed success that the project will be profitable short term after release of course.

You should be aware that this is how those "signals/calls" are provided, but what you also should be aware about is that these projects are bought up by bots the moment they release which then grants the call provider an excuse to tell you that you were just too slow but his "call" made +xx% or even +xxx% profit, meanwhile it was just natural order of things and he just copy & pasted NFT projects listed on free calendar sites.

This is why new nft profit signal services release here every day suddenly, they are no profit gurus, they are copy + pasters hustling for $200-$750 per lifetime subscription.

Be aware before you spend $200-$750 for these services, as i've said this warning does not apply to every service but it does to most!

Thanks for posting this community alert.

750 is an insane price for a service like this

I know you said it doesn't apply to all -- happy to show you proof of my claims as well as my server, if you have any questions.

Good warning to everyone here. I bet you just spoiled someone's ebook method.

It doesn't apply to you, you are one of the two services why i mentioned that it doesn't apply to all but most.

I know that you are legit.

Yes that is most likely the case.

Most people should realize that people can give you good NFT calls but getting the NFTS is not that easy.

Yes that's true.
