Thread: Actual Whitehat earning methods

?iBlunt? - March 11, 2022, 5:48 am

Hey there,

I've took a long break from the online scene since the phandemic(strange right) and I was wondering a couple of days ago what were some good methods of earning money at the moment if someone's willing to share it because I'm trying to do a side hustle. It doesn't mind me to invest at first if I see a good opportunity in it. Thanks.

I have 2 ways, first is a service I have been running for a while, which is a customer service type job, where you reply to chats from users. Can be done part time, no initial investment, however, you do have to get interviewed and accepted.

Second thing is within wealth management as is basically an investment into crypto currency and get paid passive income from that, what I can provide here is strictly which coins yield the biggest % pr. year and where to do it.

Streaming/youtube videos is the best legit way to make money. Won't be fast, but can change your life.

I'm not sure if it's an option in Europe. I know there's a lot of leasing companies doing this in the states.

I'd be interested to know more about this customer service job as well... Would be helpful while I'm studying at uni.

Could you give me more details about customer service type job? I am working as freelancer from 2014.

Thanks
