Thread: Eddie Hall vs. Hafþór Björnsson - Who do you pick

Mr. Robot - March 15, 2022, 5:47 pm

So the fight is in 4 days.

I've been watching both of them since before the beginning of their dispute (*2017) but I am going to have to say Eddie Hall takes it.

They've been training their asses off for the past 2 years now but it's finally time for the only two men to have deadlift 500kg to box it out.

They are streaming it for free:

Met Eddie Hall in Florida so him for sure.

And by Met, I mean overheard him fighting with his wife at a pier bar/restaurant while listening to a Tears for Fears coverband.

Honestly funny story, we went to a sports bar for lunch and they're playing world's strongest man on one of TVs and I'm rattling on to my sister about how Eddie Hall is sitting out this event but he's current rank one yadda yadda. We go out for dinner same day, sitting there enjoying our food and brother in law's says "that dude's fucking huge", look over and it's Eddie Hall. Would have said hey big fan but as I said earlier, he wasn't having a good time.

And you too bro, you wanna place a bet on Thor?

Mr. Robot - March 19, 2022, 3:18 pm

Well Thor won! Grats to him. I do think a rematch is in order now they have felt each other up a bit.
Rematches and best of 3's are always great.

hotwheels52 - March 19, 2022, 3:21 pm

Post-fight: Wow-- Thor fought incredibly well. I would've loved a KO finish, but nonetheless it was entertaining to view. I'm optimistic for the possible rematch or other exhibitions involving Thor to come.
