Thread: ~\$277 today in 5mins of trading on margin <3 + lil hf brag

juulstar - March 15, 2022, 8:58 pm scalped one trade for a profit of $15 or so trading on margin shorting btc @ 50x margin but I KNEW a dump was coming with today's pump lol immediately ran to my set up, saw a pattern and put in a margin trade @ 65x. was -$50 for a sec and was about to take the loss, but held position. saw a steady downward spiral and knew the bulls would get scared and dump, also assumed people had added a take profit wayyyyyyy too early.

ended up profiting about ~$265-270 in about 5 minutes!

first day of real trading btw - example A of why you should paper trade and study before EVER trading. i'm not gonna do any more high margin trades (minus my position in BAT but it's pretty safe, 20x margin and it was pumped to an idiotic price today - trading only using profit gained) until i learn a lot more - this could've gone south and i know that. but, i practiced risk management and didn't put in more than i was really afraid of losing.

L bulls W bears (jk smart traders r both) also bought ub3r after many, many years here so W!!!

I personally call this gambling, not trading, but congrats nonetheless

Congratulations on the earnings from that I have never tried margin trading but from what I have heard it is pretty risky sometimes.

That is extremely impressive OP good luck on your future trades.

I've made five figures in a matter of hours leverage trading and lost it all just as quickly. It seems like you know when to get out, but remember one thing: If you live by the leverage, you can die by the leverage. I honestly wish you the best of fortune
