Thread: Amadey v Smoke Loader?

arbster90 - March 18, 2022, 9:14 am

Looking to get a loader, so just need some advice on which one to choose, these 2 seem to be the most recommended, I just had a few questions as I've never used or set up a loader before!

Domains - I have hosted websites using freenom (.tk) domains before, are these bulletproof enough using either of these loaders? Has anyone had any experience having their domains shutdown using these?

Also I was wondering does the specific domain URL get blacklisted or discovered by AVs eventually using smoke/amadey or are they encrypted so that the user/AV has no idea where the loader is hosted?

If the domain does get shutdown or flagged presumably I can just pay a small fee for the rebuild with either loader right?

VPS/Hosting - I've used [censored]/DigitalOcean/Linode VPS's before to set up Mailservers and websites, (and buy the accounts from a third party seller). Would these hosts easily detect that I'm hosting either Amadey or Smoke and shut down my account? I don't mind if it takes them weeks/months to detect it but if it's instant detection or only takes a couple of days then I'll look into somewhere else.

Is there anything else I need to set up the loaders other than a domain name + hosting + opening some ports in some cases?

Which would you say is the better loader overall, any pros/cons? Is Amadey worth the extra $200? Also in terms of Crypting and getting either Loader FUD which sellers would you recommend?

Thanks!

I don't use either of them, but with regards to hosting, that's not how it works.

You need a VPS running LAMP to host your loader files

Then you can BUY a cheap domain to point to your VPS IP, I don't recommend using free domains

I personally use amadey.

Smoke is good but the seller is unreliable, amadey is better looking too.

Maybe smoke is hot too... i will get as soon as he finally replies or can be arsed... but i'd go with Amadey

I just googled this, so if I follow a guide like this to set up a LAMP stack then it should be ok?:

Yeah I think I've seen a few comments about that, sounds like its better to go with the better looking lad then! ;)

Does Amadey give you a installation guide of any kind of how to set up on the VPS? As I'm a complete noob when it comes to that side of it, like I've set up a website which was capable of hosting files + a mailserver before using Ubuntu 18.04, but that was when I used a complete step by step guide haha.

Palac10 - March 20, 2022, 10:14 am

You should look for a LAMP stack tutorial that matches the linux distro installed on your VPS

I think its worth paying someone with experience to set it up.
If you need help just hmu on here or tg

You will need a bulletproof linux vps with ispmanager installed with php5. Amadey is better because you wont be able to get smoke like the others have said. No it wont come with a tutorial but its not difficult and you will have to do it ur self unless you trust the person setting up for you. You will have to give away ur username/passwords to the person setting up for you sooner or later your domains will be taken down, you cant avoid that. In most cases you will need to pay full price again for rebuild. YOu should use at least 3 backup domains to keep your botnet for long time.

freenom or godaddy they would ban your domain instantly. I used to register domains for my botnets in russian registrars - r01.ru or nic.ru but they dont accept crypto. lately i have been using bpw.sc and i dont have any issues so far.

same for hosting, most of providers would ban you instantly for hosting a botnet such as smoke or amadey, i usually use servers located in panama and dont have any issues with small botnets.

i have been using smoke and amadey for years and hard to decide which one is better

Careful with Smoke the seller is really bad person OR you can say he's a real mother fucker who has no respect even to himself.

you can buy it only on russian forums, most of them require you to pay for registration.

Amaday every day. Smoke bot is fine on its own but the seller is a real piece of shit. Seeing that the seller has to rebuild it often its just not a way to do proper and reliable business.

amadey owner is not different when it comes to customer support, both of them hate to deal with newbies

Personally I didn't have that experience. Smoke just doesn't answer you for weeks without even asking a single question. And if you look on his thread on the russian forum which we will not mention everyone's experience is basically the same.

Amaday replies super quickly and on top of that he even did a rebuild for me for free while I screwed something up with one domain. And he did it in 30 minutes.

But I do agree you should not ask these guys questions. Know why you need it and know how to use it before contacting them.

I agree 100% Smoke is really bad and has no respect even to himself :)

But Anyways why do you need to rebuild why don't you use a real FF hosting ?

Both Bots don't work for Russian IPS BUT I managed to make Smoke work for RU machines/IPS 100% for a brother of mine who uses it legally as he said to me?

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Ain't sure about Amaday But must be a way to let it work for RU IPS too :)

nulluser123 - July 14, 2022, 1:36 pm

Smoke loader is decent, however, yes, the seller is the biggest asshole on the planet. Unless you're russian, you'll have to pay for every update to the bot. I haven't analyzed amadey so I can't say for sure.
