Flipping? Advertising? let me know what hustle's you guys have and what is the range of $$$ you guys make doing your grind. Do you make passive income on the hustle or is it more of an active thing

Software engineer mixed with entrepreneurship is my hustle! I build SAAS. (Software as a service). In my opinion, the best passive income generator to exist. (if done right!)

I build the software once, and maintain/improve over time. All while collecting the checks. (I am still working on that part xD)

A good side hustle I had a few summers ago was buying and selling xboxes and Playstations, buying a bunch of games separate for cheap, then bundling them together for a profit.
