Seems like a good deal. New and at Amazon it's $435.

https://www.amazon.com/MSI-GeForce-RTX-2060-VENTUS/dp/B091PVFYXM/ref=sr_1_2?keywords=RTX+2060&qid=1649269677&sr=8-2

Btw, Amazon owns Woot. It's where they offer one deal a day liquidations of overstock. If you're Amazon Prime you can get free shipping.

Any comments on the card value other than 6gb being too low possibly? I wonder if you can upgrade the ram?

No, you cannot upgrade the ram on the cards they are soldered on to the board. Not familiar with the prices now a days but im sure you can get close to a 3060 for that kind of price.

That's a good deal for a 12gb card.

Listed at $736.88 for me. A few 3060s in the 550-600 range but that's the best that I'm getting.

Finally I could see GPU prices actually being sold what they are really worth for.

Imo an RTX 3060 should really be at $275-$300 right now considering the impending launch of a new generation. MSRP was $329 at launch over two years ago.

True. But right now they've come down by a lot after all the super inflation due to crypto no lifers.

New generation cards might be delayed to next year rumors say, especially 4050/4060 ones. Probably we'll get to see only high end new gen cards this year which will probably non affordable for me again. XD
