Considering there are over 200+ Lounge Head recipients and 130+ Sportsbook recipients, I don't think they're as notable as bonus awards. Similarly the Businessman award used to be notable prior to Award Goals & Contract System but I'm not sure if it is still considered notable because there's over 300+ recipients for it now.

I agree with you but I'll have to think about it more. Do we want to restrict further and have either no Honors section or 2 entries each edition, or leave as-is and we get entries but some of them might seem like fillers because they're so common. Give me a couple days, will get back to everyone here and update OP if necessary. In an ideal world, I'd love to get rid of anything that involves paid awards but there's gotta be balance.

Advise when possible, I don't want to spam here. Maybe for award goals, it could be the notably hard ones? 1K seems pretty hard to get now a days.

Medal of Honor is definitely a hard one that should be notable.

The Sportsbook one can be hard if you don't know anything about sports.

Lounge head and Dice are pretty common though I personally believe, you should wait until I get it to make it non-notable.

Quick Love can be easily farmed as well.

24K is pretty notable.

Unsure about Hackumon cause I don't play it.

Testimonial is pretty notable I guess since it needs approval

Up to you at the end of the day. I personally like seeing honorable mention stuff like this. Don't really care for group stuff that includes buy-ins.

The first post definitely needs an update. Cyber Diamond is currently out of the award pool and I think the notable donation awards should be limited to Master Donator and Grand Amethyst only, for balance.

I don't know why HC Blue needs to be mentioned, don't know why even members would report it. It should be automatically inferred that it's non-notable as it was a one-time award sale for $15.

(Jul 3, 2022 05:15 PM)xadamxk Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Maybe just say how many were granted since the last edition?

How about using total awardees to decide notability? Some stats are as follows:

Green Apple: 472

Quickly Loved: 378

Businessman: 374

Everyday Ninja: 369

Testified: 264

Lounge Head: 206

Sportsbook: 133

Hackúman Killer: 105

Bronze Tutorial: 47

Euthanasia: 39

Medal of Honor: 32

Golden Content: 19

24k: 14

I feel that the latter few awards should count towards the Honors section while maybe the rest shouldn't.

Some of these awards are already no longer available. Creates a bit of clutter in the list of awards that shouldn't be reported.

Quote:Green Clover, Lounge Head, Quickly Loved, Dicey, Green Apple, OMC, Businessman, Everyday Ninja, Ace of Spades, Support Feather, Testified, Liberty Reserve, YouTube, Green Gift, Emerald Heart, Cheap Skate, SportsBook, Heart of Generosity
Green Clover hasn't be available for a very long time and probably will never be available again.
OMC hasn't been available for years as well.
Support Feather hasn't been available for years.
Liberty Reserve Head hasn't been available for years.
Green Gift I don't know.
Emerald Heart is a donation award which would be the equivalent of Emerald Donator which wouldn't be reportable Testified is kinda rare now a days tbh.

Donation awards that are $500+ should be notable as its people providing further support to the site.

However its your thread, your rules.

If someone were to hypothetically revive the HF News, I believe it should be strictly focused on topics related to HF. Personally, I was only interested in reading about headlines, census, groups & crews, honors, and notables. My attention was mainly drawn to news happening within the forum.

Just thought I'd throw my opinion out there because I'm sure some individuals have thought about this plenty of times.

I also believe it should only be about HF not about other shit. Groups, Crews, Bans, Awards, Events, Important Announcements, Changes. A member spotlight of 1 per issue.

The only thing is with reviving the HF News, whoever's the one to do it, has to be on good terms with a few different people as well for obvious reason and so far I'm pretty sure what's halted it in the past was issues between the old leader and the potential new one that wanted the spot, you know without having to name names etc etc..

But I'm glad to see you'd keep it to HF related news only. Granted I never found any issue with the other small sections in the HFN that were posted, like the comic strip at the end for example. I think as long as all the HF related news is posted first and on "top", and then the additional sections, I think that would be fine. - all speaking from experience having been on the team for years under both leaders (OG Sir and Hydra).

Debatable really. It's nice to see members engage as it helps promote activity and encourages more participation when reporting noteworthy events.

On the other hand, hypothetically speaking, if there were about two or more pages with no reports and just members posting back and forth, that's understandable.

If help is needed to keep track of reports, say the word and I'll do it. ?

It has already been reported. Thanks keyboard warrior.

Since you'd like accuracy though, I'll give it.

I was in Convos and was asked my opinion of Pink.

I said I didn't care for the group, as several members of it are LQ, much like yourself.

They mass joined convos to flame.

They then proceeded to create threads insinuating that I fuck children and some of their members went as far as to refer to my own children. Like the sad people that they are.

The thread was then removed and warnings issued with Omniscient's knowledge.

After being instructed to report any additional harassment, I was sent a report that the HF Wiki was defaced by Zexo and the bizarre part, is you made edits yourself immediately before he did.

After which Zexo was closed. And Pink members swarmed the convos outraged that a grown man acting like a 12 year old was closed, refused to listen to me listing the reason, but then pussied out whenever Omniscient entered the room and you all bitched out when he said it then cried and moaned for my removal.

After which I was contacted by Omniscient saying I was being removed from Staff because too many members were whining and bitching, not because of any sort of abuse. The decision was made as a business one because you and others cry about everything and love playing victims to your own bullshit.

After which, I talked with Omni and understood his position. Biggy already knew I intended to step down soon anyways, original plan was to finish the year. All this did, was get me awarded a Diamond award for my years of contributions to the site and efforts as Staff.

End result: I got a Diamond, my duties got cut short a few weeks so I dont have to spend time moderating, Zexo got closed I earned the respect of my fellow staff members Nostre and Biggy

I'll call it a W.

As of right now, nobody is running the HF News. In Scribe running the news, it was Hydra Sky Cap and me (although I never really helped other than donating).

Perhaps someone will want to pick the project up. I highly recommend getting with Hydra and Cap.

Hmm, if only there were such a group.

In all seriousness, I'd be willing to take this on in some capacity with my group. I was a writ3r for many years and always enjoyed it. That being said, Sky and I weren't on the best of terms before his hiatus (Even tho I still love ya) and I don't want to just take over another group of peoples' project that they were passionate about.

So... I'm open to the idea of contributing and keeping some semblance of an official news source on the site, but I'd like to hash it out with Sky Hydra Pentatonix Cap etc before I just go ahead and take things over.

Whoever would like to continue HF News can do so by reaching out to me. I won't continue it as it's not something Omni considers of value given that the group was deleted without notifying me or telling me why beforehand. Decade+ of W3 was wiped.

It's a lot of work and may seem easy for the first or two editions and then you'll question why you're even bothering when it only gets a few posts, no official support and 90% of the forum doesn't even know it exists. I'll provide you with the tools and graphics we've developed over the years. You also likely won't find members that will help out for a consistent period. Majority will help with an edition or two and then go MIA.

Just laying out the truth/facts, so if you're still interested, hit me up. My recommendation? Continue this thread and this will be everyone's HF News. I monitor this thread while lurking around and I'm sure staff do as well so it's "controlled" and spam-less for the most part. It's on the backburner but I've been working on something that would assist with reporting notable news in terms of user news (posts, pop, etc.). If I ever do finish it, I'll share it. It would notify the user if it finds notable news while they browse HF and can quickly post it here through automation.

Heartbreaking facts. I remember when Sir was out and they needed a new leader. I didn't want that job and told you to take it, shit was a lot of dedication lol. I'm surprised Omni would close it down without at least messaging you though to at least say thanks for trying but the efforts not worth it.

Auto reporting the news would be insane. For post counts, rep counts, and awards I think you could do it pretty easily. Maybe even popular threads. I'm not sure how you'd auto pickup on drama besides things like Staff changes or Closed account reporting and a little manual investigative reporting would do the trick I bet. Any group owner changes, that type of thing too.

Yeah, unfortunately James was the last member to actively update the Wiki, he was the last one who ran it.

Sadly though his account is now closed & deleted so he obviously won't be continuing the project.

The Wiki has always been a passion project I was heavily interested in. If I have the time, it's definitely something I wouldn't mind taking over to not only add what's missing, but ultimately try and complete it finally. I was on the HFNT for years writing Headlines, so I've always been very passionate about this aspect of HF.

cc Omniscient if you're looking for someone to take on the role of running the Wiki, I'd love to throw my hat in the ring if it's something you'd like to see continue to grow. I know many members enjoy having the Wiki, myself included.
