Digital Nomads

Taking profits and asset retention seriously...

The core Drip team is a skilled group of business owners in different industries. We strive to share and collaborate but most importantly learn about how to take advantage of corporate opportunities. We strive to understand corporate tax law, local/state/federal guidelines, asset retention, and corporate anonymity.

Who is Drip?Drip provides both turnkey business opportunities as-well as American corporate guidelines.

Drip members get premium content such as boilerplate forms/releases/etc.

Drip members will receive professional training, corporate boilerplates, turnkey businesses, exclusive offers, and much more.

What can Drip do?Create full-fledged corporate entities

Open bank accounts & get business financing

Accept credit card payments, or convert crypto payments into FIAT

And more

Looks like a great start to a group, I wish you the best of luck on everything.

Unlike any other group as far as I'm aware we are also backed as a registered business. You are not dealing with some shady HF group, we will 100% legally and professionally provide what you need.

Technically I am, you didn't want to be on the articles of incorporation.

But yes, we are looking to teach others how to essentially leverage the benefits of limited liability companies to keep more of your money, and hopefully build more equity!

We also have turn-key business opportunities in the real estate and ecom niche.

Don't put me on blast :(

I don't know what any of this is, but good luck with sales.

This seems like the kind of group that is very fitting for the forum and I hope to see it go very far.

No I just haven't been added at time of creation, will be added eventually.

(Apr 9, 2022 08:40 PM)shatter Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) How did you go from not being able to afford a crew to being able to afford a multi-thousand dollar group?

I have no clue what you're talking about dude. I've owned multiple crews, and this is my second group. As Beau so elegantly explained, frugality isn't the same as not having the cash.

(Apr 9, 2022 08:45 PM)Beau Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Being frugal is not the same as being poor. I honestly think my frugality stems from being raised by my grandparents who themselves lived thru the depression and would do weird stuff like steal ketchup packets from restaurants so they wouldn't have to buy their own. Very frugal people they were.

Yeah I'm not one to brag but I'm really an asset to every group on HF whether I'm in it or not.

Inviz is gonna come looking for you for that one...gg

But back on subject, if your doing middle man deals, it would be wise to do so under a registered business entity instead of as an individual. DRIP can help with that!
