Digital Nomads

Open Recruitment

Drip opens it's doors today to any & all members of HF who own (or are interested in owning) a registered business entity.

This group is exclusive to members who have interest in LLC, S-Corp, C-Corp, and other business entity structures and will not be of interest to people who aren't looking for specific business related information.

Membership in Drip is FREE but we also have 2 sub forums with premium content which come at a cost.

Just apply via UserCP and give a short description of what your business ambitions are.

Free membership in Drip comes with the following perks:- Weekly meetings with the rest of group

- Standard roadmap -> setting up business
- Growth plans/charts
- Starter conversations
- Starter contracts
- Tax Basics

Turnkey Operations

Turnkey is a phrase used in business to mean "all you have to do is turn the key and you're open for business". This sub forum is focused exclusively on businesses and operations. Acting as part "shark-tank", and part "mentor" the Turnkey Operations sub forum is filled with full-fledged business models, for-sale business entities, accounting & tax information, and much more related to any kind of business entity. We even toy around with a few not-for-profit concepts.

Turnkey Operations Membership $20/Monthly- Business Entity Creation Information

- Banking & Finance Accounts & Regulations
- Vetted business plans and proven systems
- Tax & Operation Policy Information
- Federal Laws and Regulations (and in some cases, even State laws)

Sign-up for Turnkey Operations Standard

Unfortunately, we are only able to mentor American or US-territory entities.

So, if you are looking to own an entity outside the territories of the US, we aren't going to be very helpful in terms of tax/federal policy.

But, if you own a company outside the US, it would be wise of you to look into potentially moving it (or creating another entity) to a US minor territory (like PR or USVI) for a slew of tax benefits.

We could, however, help you do business in The US

Some might, I do not know virtually anything about doing business outside the US territories.

In terms of work sponsorship, I'm also not that well versed. There could be a few members who might know more.

right amount is debatable :)

??? - April 12, 2022, 7:31 am

(Apr 12, 2022 06:47 AM)Beau Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) LOL. Not debatable when you're out of compliance without a reasonable cause. I guess if you plan to avoid taxes, then be sure to save money for a decent power of attorney.

I mean if I have to pay 30K after Net, best believe ill be buying many assets. Oh, a charity here ya go, omg my artwork dropped in value, that sucks. There are many ways to avoid paying what you need to, depending on a lot of factors. So as I said debatable, not one thing I said is tax evasion or illegal.

Also, a POA wouldn't deal with my taxes. They would be taking my rights so I don't know what you meant.

??? - April 12, 2022, 8:17 am

(Apr 12, 2022 08:08 AM)Beau Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) There is a big difference between tax planning and avoiding taxes. Avoiding taxes is what gets you in trouble...

That's not how it works. For federal tax purposes, an authorized POA may represent the taxpayer if they are a practitioner (e.g., CPA, attorney, enrolled agent). So if a taxpayer makes a declaration for representation, they must authorize the practitioner to deal with their tax matter. Otherwise, the IRS will not bother with anyone else but the taxpayer.

You're right, hence why I said debatable. Never said to avoid taxes.

As far as the POA you're right, my local regulation views that a little differently. I completely disregarded the feds.

How can you contribute to the group?

ACTIVITY

Extensive Hack Forums policy knowledge

Initiative for projects

Genuine drive to support the community

Limited financial support

What does DRIP name mean to you?

The DRIP group throughout its existence has changed hands in leadership while members have come and gone, but what has not changed is the quality and valor of Groups and its ranks. Groups in HF history have come and gone. Groups are sold, re-branded, and go on a stint until the process repeats. Not DRIP. Drip is the longest standing custom group on Hack Forums. It has kept the same name and user bar for days, which shows the group's stability. Drip have an unwavering commitment towards the forum and each DRIP member is dedicated towards treating each HF member with respect.

How much time can you devote towards crew activities per week?

Any time necessary. I'm on my phone/PC on Hack Forums every day, constantly browsing/posting/participating.

Personal Application: Well hello there, my name is night, I go by the name of Night around here. When I first came back around here, my sole intent was to make money. That was all I pretty much wanted to do in the long run, but as I spent more and more time here, I slowly realized that I actually really enjoy this community. Since I've been here it's pretty much been my sole mission to try and be as high quality as I can, and contribute as much as I can. Whenever I do things, I just genuinely put a lot of effort into what I enjoy, and enjoy is definitely and enjoyable time for me. Some people enjoy video games, other people enjoy sports, I enjoy this forum. During my time here, I've already been apart of the HF Wiki Team, and have done a sustainable amount of work on the wiki. So I want to continue to do what I do, but under the drip name. The group, and the members, are definitely something I have a lot of respect for. You guys recruit only the highest of quality, which to me would be an honor.

Probably. We for sure pay our taxes...but there's many strategies to paying less taxes. Like paying 20% capital gains. But in any case, I'm also looking to break into south America so you might have some good info for the group as a foreign biz owner.

I'm Stanley HF's helper bot. The OP (original poster) of this thread wants everyone to see this page and has elected to bump it to the top of the showthread listing. Since HF doesn't want a ton of LQP (Low Quality Posts) this is the best method of bumping your content. There is a small ?yte fee for each bump. Any OP can bump any of their threads on HF from the linked icon on the top of their first post.

If you haven't already read the first post of this thread we encourage you to do so.
