Can someone explain to me or link me to an explanation of crews? I don't see them listed in the forum groups list but they have their own userbars. The wiki is blank.

I recently got unbanned so I'm unfamiliar with all the new stuff.

The Crew list is here: <https://hackforums.net/gamecp.php?action=crewlist#lgv>

The Crews are for the Byte Games like HUM and Hack Game. But people buy them as they can have their own user bar.

That's basically it mate it's a lounge crew, nothing pisses me off more when group/crew owners sit there and list loads of pointless benefits to join their group like you get 50% of Steve's Booter service, Jay also does bytes giveaways to members each month. Give it a rest no one joins a group for that bollocks.

Still selling spots for this guys

Gary - July 31, 2022, 4:28 am

Just curious, why would anyone want to do a buy-in for a crew? Why not go for Coined which is $10/month or something and has way more perks lol?

SIM-3970461 - July 31, 2022, 6:29 am

this is a major yikes my guy. lol

The same reason why the other 8 people bought into it for the userbar mainly and don't get me started on group perks they're all a load of crap. They give you 10% of their own products and free access to some crappy tool they've made in Visual Studio and if you're super lucky you get a blow job of their Nan all for the low low price of $14.99 a month.

The real reason why most people buy into groups or crews isn't any of the above it's being part of a group for some clout on the forum and to improve the visual aspect of your profile. If you claim it's for anything else you're chatting bollocks.

Just my two cents, everyone's entitled to an opinion but I've yet to meet someone who bought into a group solely because of the "perks"
