The Help Doc has been updated today.

If you are a Staff or Mentor please read asap. Some rules were completely removed, while a few were changed to new wording.

Thank you.

Making it easy for you would be too simple and prevent you from reading the full document.

Noted Omniscient will review now.

Quote:Exodus is good for btc, you should be able to send on chain without verifying, if they make you do that that's pretty fucked.

What happens when Exodus does an update that does require KYC? Suggest you use Electrum for BTC. I like Exodus but imho it's only a matter of time before they KYC accounts.

Also Omniscient can get a debit card loaded without KYC through this new service, then buy online whatever service/product..

Alot more leniency on Phishing discussions I see. Nice. Hopefully we don't get flooded by questions on how to set one up for their evil BH intentions (until proven I guess), ugh. Those BH discussions/activity doesn't look good on the site. I guess there is a fine line to that topic.

Thanks for the update Omniscient. Definitely loosening up on the policies here.

Beladonis - April 19, 2022, 1:05 pm

So phishing discussions, including tutorials and code examples are now allowed on HF?

Thanks, looks like I will reverse my decision and go back to ZERO phishing discussions allowed.

Seems like I made a bad call and didn't foresee the nearly immediate problem. Lack of judgement on my part thinking people would use discretion.

So it's clear....adding to DBA.

Quote:Phishing

Phishing discussion is not allowed on HF at all.

And I am updating that thread in Blackhat Training to remove the one line about Phishing.

So basically back to old policy about Phishing where it's completely disallowed.

Thanks for talking me into reason.

Does this include gambling with bytes?

Bytes have no intrinsic value away from HF. They are an internal rewards system.

[mention=2774521] read this since you're always warning people.

DashPHP - April 19, 2022, 3:06 pm

Thanks for the update, I'm now up-to-date on the rules!

Lrrr - April 19, 2022, 3:40 pm

Does this mean that malware designed to silently mine also fall under dissalowed?

I've never heard about CoinDebit but I will surely take a glance at it. Looks interesting just like your heads up about Exodus. Thanks.

Just saying that the Exodus wallet has some features I don't know how they get away with. Eventually regulators are going to notice their project and potentially want adjustments. Even wallets like Blockchain now have KYC. What makes Blockchain any different from Exodus? You have keys with blockchain too.

Given the wording of Amazon/eBay Account Trading, is there any reason to not make it generically any account trading with linked card info?

Similar train of thought in eBay Partnerships + Bitcoin and Cryptocurrency Fraud. Could be merged as a more general rule.
