I wonder what the new twitter will be like. Being a old user, it was a total cesspool, and Elon Musk is probably gonna make it worse.

Who knows what the mad lad has up his sleeve for it next?

I don't understand the mentality. How will it be any worse than what it is now? Twitter is clearly left-leaning and bias in their enforcement of conduct. Sure, it's good to stay up to date with things but if that's where you go for a safe space or for your politics you're probably just an idiot to begin with. I say make it a completely open forum minus illegal activity and let people cry it out.
